ARBUCKLE FREED ON BOND

WOMAN CAUGHT IN BOOZE TRAP DIES IN COURT

Yesterday Sets New Rum Record.

A DAY OF BOOZE. A woman dies in a federal building yesterday, believed a suicide. A whiskey runner is found dead on a nearby road; believed murdered. A freight train is held up and robbed of cases of gin. A police officer, arrested, confesses to illicit officers.

Mrs. Rose Allen, 34 years old, 6733 Langley avenue, yesterday confessed to being a whiskey addict and then died in the federal building shortly after she was held to the grand jury as a bootlegger. She is believed to have taken poison to escape disgrace. Her husband, John Z. Allen, a lieutenant in the state constabulary; Policeman David Ransford of the Grand Crossing station; and Peter Gavis, a member in the Allen home, were also held in the conspiracy. They were released on bonds.

Assistant District Attorney Joseph J. Merensky had been questioning Mrs. Allen, who was on the witness stand in her own defense, regarding an alleged attempt to "shake down" Dr. Charles Moore, colored, 4212 Evans avenue, after Moore had sold her whisky.

She had told of an arrangement she had made with Moore three months ago by which he had supplied her with a constant stream of liquor without her husband's knowledge. Accused of "Shake Down." The prosecutor asked her of the alleged "shake down" attempt. She denied knowledge of it. Then: "Isn't it a fact that on other occasions you have blackmailed people out of sums of money with threats of exposure to the prohibition agents?" "No," she said—but spectators saw her face grow suddenly pale. Four men walked into the room—were employees of a Walgreen drug store at 71st street and Cottage Grove avenue. Mrs. Allen had "set the trap" with the drug company for $1,000 as a previous whisky sale. "Have you ever seen any of these men before?" Merensky asked her. She answered: "No." He turned to the witness: "Is this the woman?" "Yes," said one. She fell forward on the table.

End Comes Suddenly. Five minutes later, revived, she went to a lavatory. On returning she sank down on a bench in the corridor, apparently unconscious. Then nausea attacked her.

Attendants carried her to the marshal's private office. Dr. Samuel Marshall, cousin of Deputy Marshal Morris Klein, was called. He was too late. He told the coroner that the nausea was probably caused by something Mrs. Allen had taken while in the lavatory. A post-mortem examination will be held today.

Judge Landis, called on the telephone, told Allen he could go home for the night. The body of his wife was taken to the H. D. Ludlow Undertaking parlors, 47th street and St. Lawrence avenue.

Whisky Runner slain. Federal officials last night were investigating the supposed murder of Max Lewis, whisky runner of Peoria, Ill., whose body was found beside his automobile and his cargo of 100 gallons of home-brewed alcohol on a country road near Harvey. A diamond ring worth $1,500 and $7,000 in cash was missing.

Automobile bandits early yesterday morning robbed a through Santa Fe freight express train of twenty cases of gin at Reading, Ill. A mile from the scene of the robbery the bandit killed burned up; the gin was destroyed. A woman's rouge case, left behind, is the only clue.

Detective Sergeant Confesses. Henry Melvin, detective sergeant at the Deering station, brought to the federal building yesterday in connection with whisky activities in his district, confessed, according to Assistant District Attorney Harry L. Brins, and named others in a "liquor ring." William Kruger, 461 West 28th place, a bartender, was arrested and held under $5,000 bail following the confession. Prohibition officers were watching the water harbor for a "rum pirate" ship, due to dock somewhere along the lake shore last night. No trace of it was found by dawn. Ten men were arrested yesterday in connection with the boat.

Small Gives Wanderer New Chance

Carl Wanderer has again a drowning man's chance for life. The action of the pardon board, Wednesday in denying further clemency for Wanderer was believed to have clinched his hanging for dawn tomorrow, but Gov. Small announced last night that he would hold a hearing today, at which he would make his final decision. In him lies Wanderer's last chance for life.

William McCauley, Illinois commander of the American Legion, who won a reprieve for the wife murderer last July, telegraphed Gov. Small last night that any Legionnaire asking for a further stay of sentence is acting on his own initiative and has no authority to represent the Legion. The governor's action followed an eleventh hour plea by Attorney W. D. Bartholomew for a chance to prove Wanderer innocent of the crimes of which he is charged. In his argument he declared the hanging of Wanderer now would be judicial murder.

Legion Member Aids. Wanderer's chief witness today is again a member of the American Legion. He is Capt. Oscar Carlstrom of Alton, Ill., named by Gov. Small as a member of his tax commission, and a member of the constitutional convention. On his testimony the defense expects to save Wanderer from the rope.

Commander McCauley, in washing his hands of responsibility for Carlstrom, gave out a lengthy statement in which he said he intended for Wanderer once in asking a stay of sentence at the dictate of his conscience, but would not do so again. "I intended to give Gov. Small a chance to appoint a commission to look into Wanderer's sanity," he said. "When the stay of sentence was granted, that automatically let me out. The naming of the commission was a duty devolving upon the state's chief executive. He had two months to appoint the commission and took no action. The matter is not one in which the legion should take action now."

Crowd Takes Action. Immediately upon hearing of the governor's indecision last night, State's Attorney Crowe rushed Lloyd Heth, the assistant prosecutor who secured the hanging verdict, to Springfield. He has orders to oppose in every way possible further stays in Wanderer's hanging.

Wanderer himself was coldly indifferent when informed that he had another chance. He was reading a pamphlet on "Hell," when Assistant Jailer Lorenz Meisterhelm notified him. "Why should I worry," he said. "I'm innocent."

BYSTANDER SEES WOMAN LEAP IN LAKE; SAVES HER

Mrs. Frank Bohle, 1119 Massachusetts street, 65 years old, was rescued from the lake off Scott street early last evening by Sam Epstein, 902 South Hermitage avenue, after the aged woman had jumped into the water.

John Fisher, a Lincoln park policeman, notified the husband, who took her home from the Hermitage hotel, stating he believed her to be irresponsible. May Take Kaiser's Property. BERLIN, Sept. 28.—(By the Associated Press).—The Independent Socialist party today introduced in the reichstag a bill aiming at the thorough liquidation of the last vestiges of monarchism.

The main clauses of the measure provide that all the property of former Emperor William and the former German princes, both family and private, shall be confiscated; civil and military functionaries holding monarchist views or tolerating monarchist manifestations, or who refuse allegiance to the republic, shall be dismissed without pension, and military men shall not be permitted to carry arms except while on active service. The bill also proposes the introduction of trial by jury.

GERMANY REELS ON PANIC BRINK AS MARK FALLS

Punish Speculators, Nation Cries.

BY GEORGE SELDES. (Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.) (Copyright, 1921, by The Chicago Tribune.) BERLIN, Sept. 28.—Chancellor Wirth's declaration that Germany would go bankrupt if it was obliged to pay the next 1,000,000,000 marks indemnity in gold has been followed by the collapse of the German money market, which this morning showed symptoms of a panic.

With the steady fall in the mark, so that it has depreciated 70 per cent in six weeks, the rate of exchange and not the political crisis or industrial troubles has become the nation's greatest concern. While numerous reasons have been advanced for the exchange crash and various theories aired, it is evident from statements given to THE TRIBUNE by experts that a combination of causes is responsible.

Summary of Causes.

These causes may be summarized as follows: 1. The government purchase of foreign securities, with corresponding overwork of the money printing machines. 2. The failure to carry out the drastic taxation program which the late Matthias Erzberger first propounded, and which cost him his life at the hands of extremist or conservative agents. 3. The frenzied speculation in Berlin and New York and the loss of confidence in German money, which, according to local experts, was partly due to mob psychology, bringing about panicky conditions. 4. Germany's loss of its mercantile marine and colonies, which directly affect export trade and the rate of exchange.

Anger Against Speculation.

The financial situation has become the most exciting topic in Germany and is headlined everywhere. Throughout the country, and especially in Bavaria, angry sentiment has been aroused against the speculators. The Berlin Zeitung demands that the government arrest the "hyenas of the bourse" and try them for treason to the country. It points out that it has been proved that the speculators have been sending false money reports to New York bankers, thereby affecting the exchange. Inasmuch as the government controls the wireless, it is urged that the speculators be arrested and imprisoned.

Complete fulfillment of the reparations would be economically worse for the world at large than for Germany, said Reconstruction Minister Rathenau in an address before the National Association of Industries at Munich today. Herr Rathenau said that "it is better for Germany to throw paper billions into our economic machine than to bolster dollars by buying dollars."

THE CHANGING WORLD

(Copyright, 1921, by The Chicago Tribune.)

A year ago Senator Borah was fighting President Wilson and his peace treaty.

In past years the big property holder was quick to demand law enforcement when his interests were threatened.

During the war the marching columns, in their fight against an internal enemy, hunger, are not cheered on by applauding multitudes or soul-stirring bands of music.

PARIS FIREMEN READ PAPERS AT $8,000,000 BLAZE

(Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.) PARIS, Sept. 28.—The Printemps department store on Boulevard Haussmann, one of the best known stores in Paris, was gutted by fire today, the damage being estimated at 40,000,000 francs (normally about $8,000,000). The Paris firemen, who have not been so busy since the air raids during the war when they sounded alarms of the approaching bombers, were not able to cope with the blaze, but they prevented it from spreading.

Hundreds of American tourists who watched the fire were amused at the French fire fighters' tactics. The firemen threw ladders, pictures and china ware out of the windows and carried carpets and bedding down the stairs. The smoke eaters forgot to chop holes in the floors so the tons of water sprayed in the building crashed through the floors completing the destruction.

As hour after hour passed the firemen grew tired and began reading their newspapers. Instead of watching the hose so many jets of water splashed ineffectively against the stone walls of the building, instead of penetrating through the windows and doors, quenching the blaze inside. One group of firemen dragged morris chairs from the show windows and sat comfortably smoking, holding the noses of the hose in their laps while spraying the fire.

Mary Garden Hires Singer from Montmartre. (Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.) PARIS, Sept. 28.—Mary Garden, who signed a contract calling for $200 weekly with Jeanne Schneider, a mezzo-soprano, to appear with the Chicago Opera. Jeanne is statuesque, has vivid red hair, is 30 years old, has been studying for ten years, and is convinced of her eventual success. The Paris opera rejected her application, but an obscure Montmartre cabaret teacher insisted that her talent would be recognized. Reading of Mary Garden's return to Paris from Monte Carlo, Jeanne called on her at the Princess hotel and was hired on the spot. The Garden party will sail for America on Oct. 15.

Hoover Demands Charity, Unfettered, in Russia. RIGA, Sept. 28.—Herbert Hoover, head of the American relief administration, has sent a telegram to the Moscow branch, warning its head that neither politics nor religion must enter into the distribution of the charity, says a radio dispatch from Moscow.

AIRMAN CLIMBS TO 40,800 FEET

Lieut. MacReady Breaks Altitude Record.

Dayton, O., Sept. 28.—Lieut. John A. MacReady, test pilot of McCook field, today shattered the world's altitude record, attaining a height of 40,800 feet in the same La Pere biplane used by Rudolph C. Schroeder, who set a record of 38,180 feet on Feb. 28, 1920.

Lieut. MacReady was in the air one hour and forty-seven minutes, requiring all except a few minutes of the total flying time to reach his mark. At 39,000 feet he formed on his oxygen tank, but he pressed on until his engine died. He then glided to the ground.

Takes Charge of Instruments. Lieut. George B. Patterson, chief of the technical data section of the field, took charge of MacReady's instruments as soon as accumulated ice was cleared off the ship, and, following calibration, announced the official altitude as 40,800 feet.

Accumulation of ice on the plane at 39,000 feet caused one oxygen tank to cease functioning, but the auxiliary tanks provided the supply for the pilot. MacReady was clothed in the heaviest furs, with special helmet and goggles. To insure clear vision a special gelatine was used on the goggles to prevent collection of ice. The suit was electrically heated.

How Flight Was Possible. A centrifugal air compressor operated by a gas turbine forms the supercharger which made the flight possible. The turbine derives its power from the hot exhaust gas of the Liberty motor with which the ship is equipped, and air thus compressed is fed to the carburetor at the same pressure as air at sea level.

MacReady's new record is 2,620 feet higher than that of Schroeder, and in this flight the pilot suffered none of the hardships met by the former chief test pilot. Schroeder's eyeballs froze and excessive dilation of the heart kept him in a hospital nearly two weeks after the flight.

Rob Him of Some Cash and Many Prescriptions. Two masked men robbed Dr. Thomas J. Jackson, 6239 Calumet avenue, last night of $37 and a federal whisky prescription book containing blank prescriptions.

IRISH RAILWAY STRIKE CUTS OFF FOOD FOR DUBLIN

(Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.) LONDON, Sept. 28.—(London Telegraph).—The strike on the Great Southwestern railway in Ireland, which so far has affected 10,000 men, was extended today over the whole system to Dublin and is seriously affecting the Irish capital's food supplies from the countryside. J. H. Thomas, the head of the National Union of Railwaymen, arrived in Dublin tonight to look the situation over. Arbitration proceedings will begin tomorrow.

Inconveniences Americans. (Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.) QUEENSTOWN, Sept. 28.—The strike on the Irish railway is causing inconveniences to American bound steamship passengers. Eleven passengers motored here from Dublin today to catch the liner Carmania. No English or Dublin mails have been received in Cork since Monday.

POLICE LIBELED, GOTHAM'S CHIEF INFORMS MAYOR

New York, Sept. 28.—The political campaign in New York City is entering the libel suit stage. Police Commissioner Enright tonight wrote to Mayor Hylan that he had recommended to the district attorney of the five counties in New York City that they seek grand jury indictment of the New York Herald for alleged dissemination of false information concerning the police department.

The newspaper, in a recent résumé of police activities and unsolved crimes, is alleged to have made seventy-five false statements in violation of section 1353, chapter 569, of the laws of 1920.

Children's Haircuts May Drop from 60 to 20 Cents. W. S. Laidig, secretary and business agent of the barbers' union, says that the price of children's hair cuts in union barber shops should be 20 cents instead of 60 cents. He's going to present a resolution to that effect at the union's next regular meeting.

Grant Permit for Boiler Factory Despite 1,200 Kicks. In spite of a protest signed by 1,200 residents of Avalon Park, the city law department yesterday approved the issuance of a building permit to the Niagara Radiator and Boiler company to construct a factory at East 83d street and Woodlawn avenue.

Vandals Stone Trolley Car in Forest Tract

A trolley car which runs into the country west from Central street, Evanston, passing Westmoreland Golf club and the forest preserve on the north branch of the Chicago river and terminating its run at the Glen View club, was twice attacked and stoned last night.

Bricks and pieces of iron were hurled against the side of the car by at least a dozen persons. Windows were shattered and passengers imperiled. No cause for the incident except rural hoodlumism could be discovered.

Outside Police District. The incident was cited as a new reason for rural police. The murder of a bank cashier in Glen View last Saturday was cited as a more serious reason. The rural roads of Cook county are practically unprotected.

Frank Pearson, motorman of the car attacked last night, said that on the early trip out last night he had just passed the viaduct over the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul railroad and was entering a grip of the preserve when out of the darkness came a shower of beer bottles, pieces of iron, brick, and rocks.

They thumped against the side of the car and smashed all the windows. The passengers, alarmed, started for the door. None jumped.

Repeated on Return Trip. On the return trip, at the same point, the same thing occurred. The assailants were well hidden by the trees, Pearson said. On his return to Evanston he reported the matter to the police.

When they refused to take action because of lack of jurisdiction Pearson notified Charles F. Speed, manager of the road, that he would not make the last trip for fear he would be killed.

Mr. Speed gathered some friends and personally took the car out on the run. No clue to the identity of the vandals was found. It will be necessary to send the car to a repair shop for the next few days.

FINGER PRINTS IN GLEN VIEW. Maintaining that the murder of Fred Christensen, cashier of the Glen View State bank, was the work of some local amateur in crime, Marshal Schultz yesterday declared that the finger prints of every citizen will be taken to clear up the mystery.

Feeling is running high in the village. Authorities are already watching one resident.

SPEED COP NEAR DEATH; WOMAN KILLED BY AUTO

Pursuing a speeding automobile, Motorcycle Policeman Louis Motz was probably fatally injured last night when his machine skidded at Madison street and Washtenaw avenue and he was run over by the motor car of Dr. E. A. Christoffer, 2755 West Madison street.

An unidentified woman, aged 70, died of injuries received last night when she stepped in front of the machine of J. C. Kennan, 617 East 50th street, engineer custodian for the board of education, and was knocked to the pavement.

Albert Sanders, 1803 West 17th street, was recommended held to the grand jury on a manslaughter charge yesterday by a coroner's jury investigating the death of 5 year old Loretta Goggey, 5234 South Winchester avenue, who was killed Aug. 31.

He had been under considerable strain all through the afternoon in court. Judge Lazarus had much to say before he gave his decision. Fatty set in his accustomed attitude. But there was a difference in his look today. He was not playing a role. He had ceased to be an actor. He was just a human waiting to hear judgment pronounced on him.

Silence While Judge Speaks. The room was silent as the judge talked. He began by announcing that the prosecution had put in its case, that he had overruled the motion of the defense to dismiss the case, and that he was ready to hear any witnesses the defense might call.

Attorney Dominguez stated that after consultation with his aids it had been decided not to call any witnesses. "The issue here," said Assistant District Attorney Golden, "is exceedingly simple. In all solemnity and sincerity we believe that if the evidence we have submitted in this preliminary hearing had been submitted to a jury, and the jury had brought in a verdict of guilty as charged, that verdict would stand if taken up to the higher court."

Dominguez then related how the grand jury had heard all the evidence submitted to Judge Lazarus, and more, too, perhaps, and how the coroner's

MURDER CHARGE DROPPED; FACES MANSLAUGHTER

BY EDWARD J. DOHERTY. San Francisco, Cal., Sept. 28.—(Special).—"Fatty" Arbuckle, freed from the charge of murdering Miss Virginia Rappe, Chicago movie actress, spent the night quietly with his wife and her mother at the home of A. C. Arbuckle, his brother.

He was released on bond of $5,000 this evening after Judge Sylvain Lazarus had held him to the Superior court on a manslaughter charge and mildly rebuked the district attorney, who had charged him with the more serious crime.

Fatty hurried away from the hall of justice, where he had been imprisoned for two weeks, and left in his brother's auto after shaking hands with hundreds of women. Tomorrow he will go to Los Angeles.

Two Manslaughter Charges. "Fatty" is really bailed on two charges of manslaughter, one on information filed with the police, the other on the indictment. The charge in the indictment comes up Monday, and it is probable District Attorney Brady will have it dismissed, by so doing he will not be forced to inform the defense of the testimony presented to the grand jury.

It is possible the trial on the manslaughter charge will begin Oct. 3. This is the first open date on the calendar of Judge Louderback, the trial judge. Both sides want an early trial.

Attorney Frank Dominguez, chief counsel for Arbuckle, is confident his client will be acquitted. He believes the state will call Mrs. Bambi Maude Delmont, Ira Furlough, and Fred Fishback, three witnesses not put on the stand in the preliminary hearing.

Getting Ready for Raps. It is charged by friends of the defense that Mrs. Delmont is now unwilling to testify; that Dominguez is willing to challenge her, to charge her with perjury; that Furlough and Fishback are ready to contradict her testimony; that Furlough is prepared to take the stand and swear that to his positive knowledge Mrs. Delmont was not in the room in the St. Francis hotel when she declares she kicked on the door, and that he knows she was not, because he was with her.

Friends of the defense declare this is the reason the prosecutor did not call these three witnesses to the stand in the preliminary hearing; this is the reason why he gave Judge Lazarus only an outline of their case; this is the reason Dominguez stormed and shouted and dared the prosecution to summon them.

Sympathy for Flump Star. The sympathy of San Francisco seems to have changed radically with the change in "Fatty's" fortune. Even some of the women's vigilance committee, which has been a power to uphold the prosecution, shook hands with Fatty after the hearing was over, and congratulated him. They came into the judge's antechambers to greet him, tell him how glad they were.

Fatty had nothing to say to any of them, save "thanks." He rose and held a brown paper cigarette—in one hand, unconscious of what he was doing—and his great fingers shook as he lighted a match.

He had been under considerable strain all through the afternoon in court. Judge Lazarus had much to say before he gave his decision. Fatty set in his accustomed attitude. But there was a difference in his look today. He was not playing a role. He had ceased to be an actor. He was just a human waiting to hear judgment pronounced on him.

Jury had also heard the state's evidence, and how both juries had brought in a verdict of manslaughter.

Defense Challenges State.

The lawyer then challenged the state to put Mrs. Delmont on the stand and advised the jury that without any stronger evidence than the prosecution had presented he ought to dismiss all charges against Arbutkule.

"Now, gentlemen," the judge began, "before making a decision the court will indulge in a little discussion. Sitting as I am in a privileged attitude, without the fear of contradiction, and with the comfort that no one can stop me if I talk too long, or talk aside from the case, I may have my say."

"There is just enough evidence here, I may say, barely enough, to justify me in holding the defendant, without further facts and circumstances which the district attorney said would more strongly establish the fact that Roscoe Arbutkule is guilty of the crime of murder. This is an important case. We are not trying Roscoe Arbutkule alone. We are trying the screen celebrity who has given joy and pleasure to all the world."

Real Significance of Hearing!

"Actually, in a large sense, we are trying ourselves."

"We are trying our present day morals, our present day social conditions, our present day looseness of thought, lack of social life, really and truly, larger than the guilt or innocence of this particular unfortunate man. The issue is universal and grows from conditions which are matters of common apprehension to every true lover and protector of our American institutions."

"The thing which occurred on Sept. 6, 1921, happened in the heart of San Francisco, the most beloved city in the world, in one of the largest and most pretentious hostilities of the city, in broad daylight."

"Hotel Let Orgy Continue."

"The thing that happened there was the culmination of an orgy which, according to the testimony of a chambermaid in the hotel, was well known to the management—no, I won't say the management—but it was well known in and about that hotel."

"We need not speak of bacchanalianism, or saturnalianism, or any of the terms of the ancient days. We are supposed to live and breathe and have our being in a better and more advanced age. Nevertheless this thing, this orgy that continued many hours, and resulted in the death of Virginia Rappe, a moving picture actress, was not repressed by the hotel management. It is of such common occurrence that it was given no attention until something happened, until the climax made it notorious."

"And the same things happen in other big cities all over the world."

Hoped to Inform Wide World.

"I am talking almost as I would to an audience, but you will let me say this: In this thing is a public lesson larger than the district attorney would have us understand. I had really hoped and expected that all the evidence possible on both sides would be presented here, so that this humble police court would be the avenue through which a full and complete revelation would be made, so that it would become a forum in which the public would have the opportunity to determine the guilt or innocence of this man, whose celebrity, justly so, has traveled to the four corners of the globe."

"Roscoe Arbutkule has brought joy and pleasure to his fellow men. He is therefore more valuable in the scheme of creation than lawyers and judges, who but add gloom to existence."

"The testimony shows that during

Mrs. Rose Allen, whose death followed questioning in federal hearing.

the whole afternoon in these rooms, 1219, 1220, and 1221, in the St. Francis hotel, a condition, let us charitably say a festivity, prevailed. Men and women came and went. Their movements so irregular the witnesses found it difficult to say who occupied certain rooms at certain times.

The Unpopular 18th Amendment.

"Much liquor was drunk in this prominent hotel, despite the recent unpopular addition to the constitution of the United States. The complaining witness, who was not put on the stand, has been described as being in a particularly inebriated condition."

The judge went on, summing up the evidence, referring to "Fatty's" alleged conduct with the ice and his remarks as testified to by Semmacher—as very, very regrettable, but as having no connection with the charge of murder. He said he believed the defendant would not have done this "abhorrent thing" if he had realized the woman's injured condition.

"Some of the witnesses," he said, "were absolutely worthless, especially Semmacher, who occupied two days of the court's time."

"The only witness in the entire case who gave any direct testimony bearing on the guilt or innocence of Roscoe Arbutkule was the nervous chambermaid, Josephine Keza. Passing along the corridor she heard the sound of revelry, and then she heard a woman's voice crying, 'No! No! O my God, and a man's voice saying 'Shut up!'"

"This is the only testimony which by any conceivable possibility shows a connection between the defendant and a crime."

This Testimony Worthless.

"Your honor is not overlooking the testimony of the witness who heard Miss Rappe saying, 'I'm dying, he hurt me!'" said Assistant District Attorney U'Ren.

"No; but I am taking into consideration the fact that she was in great pain; that she said he hurt her, but not that he had attacked her. Reminds me of that line in Lord Byron's 'Don Juan'—"

"And saying she would ne'er consent, consented."

"The entire room guffawed. Officer Maloney shouted, 'Order!'"

"But she said: 'O my God, no! No! No! No!'" said Golden.

"Too many no's," said the court.

"Now, gentlemen," he went on, "murder in its category and in its punishment is the most serious crime. The question for me to decide, from this meager outline of evidence, this skeletonized description of what occurred in those apartments on Labor day, is whether I am justified in holding the defendant for murder. And I do not believe I am justified in sending him to trial on this grievous charge. Therefore I hold him for trial on the charge of manslaughter."

Reaction in Courtroom.

"Fatty" turned to his wife and pressed her hand. Dominguez smiled. The question for me to decide, from this meager outline of evidence, this skeletonized description of what occurred in those apartments on Labor day, is whether I am justified in holding the defendant for murder. And I do not believe I am justified in sending him to trial on this grievous charge. Therefore I hold him for trial on the charge of manslaughter."

Japan Sends Strongest Man.

TOKIO, Sept. 28.—If the imperial dynasty had not been restored to full authority with the resignation in 1867 of the last of the shoguns, or heads of the feudal system, Prince Iyemoto Tokugawa, appointed chief of the official delegation to Washington conference, would today be the shogun. His appointment, therefore, is considered a fine tribute to the great Tokugawa family and to the prince himself, and as almost certain to please the Japanese people. He is considered Japan's strongest man.

WITH 57 SPOONS 364 TARTAR KIDS BOLT U. S. FOOD

Kazan Gets First Yankee
Eats in Famine Area.

BY FLOYD GIBBONS.
(Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.)
(Copyright, 1921: By The Chicago Tribune.)
KAZAN, Russia, Sept. 22, via Riga, Sept. 28.—Licked and polished to a tongue smooth finish fifty-seven wooden spoons, comprising the principal equipment of the largest public institution in the Tartar republic, joyfully welcomed reinforcements to the number of 364 of their like late today.

For the last four days 423 undernourished and starving children, most of them shivering from the cold in scant cotton dresses and makeshift apparel, have been working on the original fifty-seven spoons in hungry relief.

Eyes on Fifty-seven Spoons.
While overworked, the fifty-seven have conveyed American relief administration rice, milk, and sugar from the wooden bowls to the eager mouths of the children. The 364 spoons are the sign of the first stages of advanced starvation, shortly after which food is useless, the child being unable to eat.

Speed Up Relief.
Speed has dominated all the plans of the American relief administration with the result that actual feeding started in the capital of the Tartar republic the day after the first train with supplies arrived. The scarcity of spoons did not prevent the initial distribution, although the first meal was delayed almost two hours while the Russian speed god, whose name is "Sichas" (in a minute) and whose velocity would make the seven year itch look like galloping heart failure, got into its happy stride.

The 423 hungry kids did not pound the tables and demand food—obedience and submission is too well inculcated in the Russian Tartar character to permit any display of impatience no matter how much the stomach ached.

Clean Though Starving.
The building is semi-heated, but undernourishment has made all the children in it feel the cold intensely. None of them wore shoes and most of them were dressed in the lightest kind of white or gray cotton garments made up after the fashion of gowns used in charity hospitals. The cleanliness of the building—in the assembly rooms and kitchens—was noteworthy and called forth the praise of the American officials.

The Americans only superintended the distribution for two days, then they concentrated their best efforts on their plan for the relief of the rest of the town and the surrounding country, where conditions are reported to be extremely bad, though not so desperate as further south along the Volga.

M. Mubatur, the prime minister of the Kazan republic, called on Vernon Kellogg, the head of this group of American workers, in the latter's private car on the railroad and told him, in the presence of correspondents, that the actual deaths so far in the Tartar republic from starvation number 10,000, but that undernourishment had made victims of many tens of thousands more.

This is one of the starving groups of men, women and children in the Russian village of Mordovskaya Borkovka. The photographs show the puffs under the eyes of the children in their mothers' arms. FORDNEY COMES TO EXPLAIN HIS TARIFF MEASURE

Congressman Joseph W. Fordney of Michigan will be the chief speaker today before the national conference of state manufacturers' associations in the Congress hotel. The convention will discuss taxes, tariff, and railroads, which they consider closely related to the unemployment problem. He will explain the tariff bill of which he is the author.

Other speakers today will be Walter Camp, famous football coach and president of the American Vocation association; Judge Marion De Vries of the United States courts of customs appeals, Washington, D. C.; and E. B. Leigh, president of the Chicago Railway Equipment company.

YANKS ON RHINE PLAY AT WAR FOR GEN. PERSHING

COBLENZ, Sept. 28.—[By the Associated Press.]—Gen. Pershing rode back and forth before the advancing lines of American troops engaged in maneuvers and watched them charge under cover of an artillery barrage to day. The troops used ball ammunition in their machine guns, demolishing their objectives and scattering up bunches of rabbits that scampered in all directions.

Gen. Pershing was accompanied by Maj. Gen. Henry Allen, commander in chief of the American forces in the occupied territory, and Gen. Moreland of the British army.

There was a polo game in the afternoon and a dinner and reception this evening at Gen. Allen's home.

Natives Flee; Popocatepetl Is Threatening to Erupt

MEXICO CITY, Sept. 28.—Popocatepetl, the great volcanic mountain southeast of this city, is reported to be in more vigorous activity than usual. The inhabitants of Amecameca and Tlanacac, at the base of the mountain, are leaving their homes, fearing a serious eruption.

NEPHEWS RENEW BUYING OF SAM'S LIBERTY ISSUES

New York, Sept. 28.—Trading in Liberty issues, and particularly in Victory notes, again dominated the bond market today. Dealings approximated $12,000,000, or almost three-quarters of the day's total operations on the stock exchange. Heavy transactions at private sale also were reported.

Most of the Liberties closed at trifling losses, but Victory 4½s repeated their recent maximum of 98.50 on sales aggregating $5,800,000 par value. Included in this total were individual lots ranging from small amounts to $200,000, $500,000, and one block of $1,100,000, which sold at 98.48. This is the largest single transaction since the recent upward movement.

Private dealers in United States bonds claimed that much of the renewed demand for these securities came from investors of moderate means. The buying power, they said, was broadening to points in New England and the middle west.

K. K. K. DEMANDS U. S. INQUIRY ON MANY CHARGES

Washington, D. C., Sept. 28.—[United Press.]—A vigorous campaign to combat attacks being made on the Ku Klux Klan is being prepared by its high officials. H. B. Terrell, attorney for the Klan, said here today.

Terrell said the Klan would urge a congressional inquiry into its affairs as proposed in the Taggart resolution pending in the house. Meanwhile the department of justice is being swamped with letters against the organization and the representatives of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, in conference with President Harding, commended the administration's efforts to "unmask" the Klan.

LONDON, Sept. 28.—Prime Minister Lloyd George's reply to Eamon de Valera's note was not sent today and it is stated on good authority that it may not be dispatched to Dublin until tomorrow night, although the Irish republican cabinet has been summoned to meet in Dublin tomorrow afternoon to consider it.

I have learned, from a source usually well informed, that private messages have been passing between Mr. Lloyd George and Mr. de Valera in an effort to find a form which will be quite satisfactory to both sides before the final letter is given out for publication. The news from Dublin now is that everybody there expects the conference to take place.

The accused was remanded for trial without bail.

WASHINGTON NEWS —IN BRIEF—

WASHINGTON, D. C., Sept. 28. Repeal of the transportation taxes and also the repeal of the excess profits tax and the reduction of the higher surtaxes were planned by senators of the agricultural bloc.

The interstate commerce commission made public the tentative scheme for the possible consolidation of the railroads into nineteen systems.

With the arrival in Washington next week of Elihu Root, formulation of the American policy to be pursued in the conference on limitation of armaments will begin.

Republican leaders, with President Harding's approval, began their forced drive to rush ratification of the German, Austrian and Hungarian peace treaties, forcing a special night session.

President Harding has written an endorsement of the effort of the Roosevelt Memorial association to collect souvenirs and mementos of the former president's life.

"FIFI" STILLMAN GETS READY FOR COURT HEARINGS

New York, Sept. 28.—[Special.]—Mrs. James A. Stillman has resumed her conference with her attorneys preparatory to the opening of hearings before Referee Gleason on Oct. 11. She is arranging, too, several legal details aside from the suit brought by her husband.

These include the efforts being made to have Mr. Stillman return her household linen and silverware (the linen a wedding present from her father), and other furnishings, as well as the appointment of a guardian for her son, "Bud" Stillman.

Mrs. Stillman will confer with John E. Mack, guardian of Guy Stillman, this week, and on Friday with John F. Brennan, her counsel, at 810 Fifth avenue. She moved to her apartment from Tuxedo today, so she might keep in closer touch with her court affairs.

A rumor that a reconciliation had been attempted by Mrs. Stillman was denied today by Mr. Brennan.

"You can deny that story for me, and you can say further that there is no possibility of a reconciliation," Mr. Brennan said.

It was reported Miss Anne Stillman also categorically denied by wireless from the Olympic that she had broken with her father. It is known, however, that she "rather resented" her father's appearance at the pier before she sailed for France to attend school.

HEAVY MAJORITY FOR RAIL STRIKE DEEMED CERTAIN

Will brotherhood chiefs and grievance committees sanction a demand of railway workers of the country for a general strike?

The transportation crisis developed this as the one important question last night, when it was virtually conceded that the completed count of ballots would show the men have been almost unanimous in voting for a walkout.

The straw indicating which way the wind is blowing, so far as the temper of the rail employees is concerned, has been the checking of strike ballots polled by the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen.

Trainmen Vote to Strike.
Following two days, during which fifty-seven general chairmen and six vice presidents of the organization have been counting the votes, it was announced last night that 96 per cent of the ballots tabulated have favored a strike. The count will not be complete until late today, but the result is said to be certain.

Counting will start Monday of the votes of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Engineers, Order of Railway Conductors, and the Switchmen's Union of North America. The officers and general chairmen of these organizations will convene in Chicago at that time.

Reports as to how these railway unions have voted indicate the result will solidly support the stand evidently taken by the trainmen.

Officials Have Last Say.
Officers of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen have pledged themselves not to interfere, but the bylaws of the union reserve in grievance committee power to veto a strike vote. A strike vote of the other railway unions may be vetoed by the union chiefs, who have refused to commit themselves as to their probable attitude.

U. S. GRAND JURY FIGHTS ANOTHER BUILDING TRUST

New York, Sept. 28.—The federal grand jury handed down today an indictment charging two groups of terra cotta manufacturers—the Atlantic Eastern and the American National—and their officers with violation of the Sherman anti-trust law.

"We find that this vast industry, reaching from here to the coast," United States District Attorney Hayward said, "has been within the complete and arbitrary control of about twenty-five men throughout the United States. A very exhaustive investigation has revealed a startling situation."

The indictment returned today charges the maintenance of price fixing areas through a control of 95 per cent of the terra cotta industry.

"The upshot of it all has been," Hayward said, "that the price of terra cotta in recent years has risen from approximately $40 a ton to $200 and $400 a ton."

U. S. WON'T VISIONARY ON ARM

America's Parle
to Be Pra

BY ARTHUR SEAR
Washington, D. C., Sept. 28.—Formulation of policy in the international arena is the limitation of an armistice next week, which will arrive in Washington with the other members of the delegation—Secretary Hughes, Senator Lodge, Underwood.

It is now possible to consider the question of disarmament which will be the subject of the session in whose machinery and absence of enemies are a common factor.

Full Disarmament.
The American delegation is now in the midst of its endeavor to bring about a general disarmament at this stage of the war.

A measure of defense, it is conceived, is necessary for the maintenance of order and peace. The United States could not arm alone. Hence, the conference is called an endeavor to achieve what is hoped to be a step toward the peace.

An international agreement to reduce land and naval armaments is being discussed in Italy, France, particu-

U. S. WON'T BACK VISIONARY AIMS ON ARMS LIMIT

America's Parley Program to Be Practical.

BY ARTHUR SEARS HENNING
Washington, D. C., Sept. 28.—(Special.)—Formulation of the American policy in the international conference on the limitation of armament will be begun next week, when Elihu Root will arrive in Washington to confer with the other members of the American delegation—Secretary of State Hughes, Senator Lodge, and Senator Underwood.

It is now possible to outline the considerations which will guide the American delegation in the negotiations to achieve what is hoped will be a notable step toward the preservation of world peace.

To hold fast to the practical and not visionary aims will be the chief endeavor of the American delegation in whose membership practicality and absence of visionary tendencies are a common trait.

Full Disarmament Impractical.
The American delegates approach their task agreed that complete naval or military disarmament is impractical at this stage of the development of mankind. A measure of national self-defense, it is conceived, will be imperative for generations to come. No other nation would agree to complete disarmament and manifestly the United States could not afford to disarm alone. Hence, complete disarmament is classed as visionary and it is desired that the people generally should understand that this is to be a conference, not on disarmament, but on the reduction of armament to the extent it may prove possible to agree upon.

An international agreement to restrict and reduce armament gradually does appear to the American government to be not only far from visionary but intensely practical.

Depends on France and Italy.
True, it may turn out to be impractical to reduce armament on account of the attitude of France and Italy. France, particularly, would re-

NO PROXY NEEDED

LOOKING after the feeding of starving children in the famine zones of Europe, Raymond L. Bland, on the headquarters staff of the American food relief administration in London, was forced to delay several times his return to Chicago to marry Miss Juliet Graves, 2024 Sedgwick street, daughter of Thomas S. Graves, a South Water street merchant.

It was then that Bland suggested a marriage by proxy, so that his bride could join him in his humanitarian work abroad. He had heard of a Chicago girl who was married by cable to a sailor in Egypt. Miss Graves agreed. And then—

"I'm coming home to attend my wedding," he cabled.
That's why Mr. Bland was married to Miss Graves last night at the Hotel La Salle by the Rev. William B. Leach. They met at the home of Bland's uncle, Frank C. McCrum, 4818 North Tripp avenue, when he was at the first officers' training camp at Fort Sheridan. On Oct. 4 the newlyweds will hurry back to London on the Aquitania.

REPUBLICANS SIT AT NIGHT TO GET TREATIES ACROSS

Democrats Make a Bitter Fight on Pacts.

BY A STAFF CORRESPONDENT.
Washington, D. C., Sept. 28.—(Special.)—Republican leaders, with the approval of President Harding, held the senate in session late tonight in a drive to hasten ratification of the German, Austrian, and Hungarian peace treaties over the growing Democratic opposition. Only forty-two senators were present.

Senator Kellogg, Minnesota, Republican, occupied the floor during most of the night session with a speech in which he warmly advocated prompt and favorable action on the treaties.

Lodge Sees Harding.
Earlier in the day, Senator Lodge, Republican leader, went to the White House to discuss plans for wearing down the Democratic opponents and bringing the pacts to an early vote. The program calls for a series of night sessions and the necessity of constantly retaining a quorum of Republican senators.

President Harding is understood to have approved Senator Lodge's plan and to have reiterated his desire for action on the treaties before the international conference in Washington on Nov. 11. Mr. Lodge is reported to have assured the President that enough votes were in sight to ratify the treaties, notwithstanding the Democratic opposition, which has reached unexpected proportions.

Democrats Shift Charges.
Democratic senators were busy during the day preparing a series of reservations which they will offer for discussion at tomorrow's caucus. Perhaps half a dozen will be ready to receive the attention of the caucus tomorrow.

Berlin dispatches forecasting reiteration of opposition to ratification were the subject of considerable discussion.

British Not Satisfied with Russ Explanation

LONDON, Sept. 28.—[By the Associated Press.]—According to official circles here the recent letter of M. Berzin, Russian soviet trade representative in London, to Lord Curzon, British foreign minister, to be highly unsatisfactory as an explanation of the soviet violations of the terms of the trade agreement. Great Britain's principal grievance, that of propaganda against the British government, was not denied.

TWO POLICEMEN "FIRED."
Patrolman John J. Carroll was found guilty of leaving his post unguarded on Sept. 4, and Patrolman Frederick Wills was found guilty of insubordination and disobedience to orders by the police trial board yesterday. Both were dismissed.

WHO WILL WIN A RAILROAD STRIKE?

Talk of a general railroad strike in the United States is gaining momentum with the counting of the referendum vote of the 156,000 members of the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen, now under way at the Majestic hotel. The shophmen have already voted to walk out against the wage cut of July 1, but the walkout is delayed pending the railway labor board's decision on shop rules.

The prospect is menacing. And it is menacing no more to the public than to the railroad employees themselves.

If there really is to be a strike, which we doubt and deprecate, the workers could hardly have chosen a time of more danger to their interests and of less danger to the country. It will cause great distress now, but probably less than at any period for at least fourteen years. Business is at a low ebb. Every city in the United States has great supplies of food in storage. Retail coal yards generally are full, and wholesale demand for coal for manufacturing is at a minimum. Winter stocks are in the stores, or will be within a short time. A large part of the wheat crop has been moved, at least to primary centers, and the corn is beginning to follow. There is comparatively little demand for steel.

Altogether, it appears that the country could withstand a strike at the present moment if it ever could stand a strike. And the railroad men themselves are not immune to a break in morale. Witness the outlandish switchmen's strike of last year and its breaking. A strike now would not be a walkout but a battle which might easily run both sides.

England last year had a general railroad strike, supported by the transport workers and miners, and settled shortly with loss to the nation and no gain to the strikers. This year England had a miners' strike which left the business of the country prostrate and ruined the miners' organization.

From the sentiment evident at the convention of the American miners in Indianapolis last week it appears that a coal strike in this country when the present agreements run out next spring is more than a possibility. Are we to duplicate the action of the English with a general railroad strike this year and a miners' strike next year? If so, it would behoove us to glance at the situation of England today. Taxation is up to the breaking point. Industry and business are flat. One man out of every three is idle. Are we aiming at such a condition in America?

THE NEW TREATY BATTLE.

Opposition in the senate to the new peace treaties between the United States and Germany, Austria, and Hungary is again dividing on party lines. Hope that the new treaties, with sufficient reservations to protect the United States against permanent foreign entanglements at the hands of Americans appointed without restriction to European commissions, would be ratified speedily has faded. There is to be a battle. The Republican senators probably will win and the pact will be ratified, but not without a struggle.

In this connection it is well to point out to the country at large that those who opposed the original treaty did so because it was bad for the United States, regardless of how good it might have been for Europe. The leaders of such opposition have been convincingly approved at the polls through the defeat of those they fought. It is certain that those who were thus reprimanded because they favored a treaty prejudicial to the United States will not win public approval because they oppose a treaty designed to protect and advance the interests of the United States.

The Democrats in the senate may fight it, but they will do so at their peril. After all, the paramount duty of United States senators is to the United States, not to Europe or to party or party leaders, past or present. The electorate appreciates this fact. Any one who opposes a pact because it is good for the United States, regardless of the assumption that it is not good for Europe, eventually will be accorded ample leisure in which to develop the same appreciation.

END SPEEDWAY HOSPITAL SCANDAL.

Col. Charles R. Forbes, head of the new federal veterans' bureau, inspecting hospitalization arrangements for disabled soldiers, finds the new Speedway hospital provisions very unsatisfactory. We suggest that he remedy these unsatisfactory conditions. Our understanding of the plan which created the veterans' bureau, of which Col. Forbes is the chief, is that it was designed to unite all federal agencies having to do with care or compensation of ex-service men under a single head with power to act.

The chief argument in favor of the bill was that it would remove red tape and result in prompt action on each case brought to its attention. If that is the situation it would appear that Col. Forbes is wasting valuable time criticizing the Speedway hospital for having 300 employees and only eighty patients. He might better see that some of the employees are dismissed or a better proportion of patients assigned to this institution. He does not need to speak to obtain the support of public opinion. That is already with him. Let him act.

The colonel has given evidence of a true appreciation of his duties in various allied branches of his work. For instance, he says that more than half the 25,000 soldiers now in hospitals are able to walk, and most of them want to go home. They stay in the hospitals largely because they are unable to assure themselves of compensation if they go home. He plans to assure them of adjusted compensation and get them home. That will be a satisfaction to the men and a load off the hospital.

He has also found an unnecessary amount of shifting of patients from one institution to another. That is to a large extent a waste of money and a hardship upon the patient. One man, for instance, has been in more than seventy hospitals. That is something the director of the bureau can and apparently will correct. With the elimination of what he admits are "highly objectionable" contract hospitals by reducing the average numbers in government hospitals another hardship can be eliminated.

Such work as this will justify the veterans' bureau. The Speedway hospital difficulties offer merely one medium of such justification. That institution has been a scandal long enough.

FRENCH PACIFIC ISLANDS.

Paris reports that some fear is entertained that the United States may suggest the purchase of the Marquesas and the Society Islands from France and offer to knock something off the French debt in exchange for them. "An important political group demands that Premier Briand reject any such proposals."

We do not know what use the French have for these Pacific islands, but neither do we see much use that the United States has for the Philippines, considering the exposure they make of American defenses. We can't let go of the Philippines and the French say they won't let go of the Marquesas. They would be of some use to America because of their relation to the Panama canal, and if the United States had not been so busy being unselfish when it was preserving humanity it might have cleaned up the situation both in the Caribbean and in the Pacific. In 1917 there would have been no protest against giving America the European owned islands which, for American safety, ought to be in American possession. The Japanese attended to their own necessities and collected.

The American policy of protection has been sketchy rather than well defined and purposive. An uneasy destiny has worked, but has left loose ends everywhere. When the United States decided to buy and keep the Philippines it also acquired Guam in the center of Micronesia, but it did not make the job complete, as it could have done by taking all the 680 islands of the group. America allowed the Pelew, Caroline, and Ladrone groups to be sold by Spain to Germany.

That mistake in judgment played two bad tricks. Germany could not keep them and the United States did not keep them from being transferred to Japan. Each transfer was from bad to worse, so far as the United States was concerned, from Spain to Germany to Japan, a bad double play leaving Guam encircled.

When the United States was satisfied with Guam and permitted the other islands to be sold to Germany nothing much was known of the submarine. In ignorance of that development the United States allowed submarine nests to escape, and now, given to Japan, they form a complete cordon about the island which ought to be the base of the fleet in the far Pacific and the protection of the Philippines.

That is the consequence of not cleaning up thoroughly, but inasmuch as the United States did not thoroughly know its own purposes it did not thoroughly execute them. The French islands in the Pacific which are important to the Panama canal may do the United States no harm in French possession, even if they do the French no good. The difficulty in the far western Pacific was caused by changes in ownership.

Some day there may be a sign over the Marquesas: "This place has changed hands." It would pay the United States to get possession of them before that happens.

TINO AND TIN PLATE.

King Constantino of Greece still has the child but he has not yet got the papers, and the wedding of Master Leeds to Princess Xenia is postponed. Mrs. Leeds, the Princess Christopher, sends the master of court to the United Press office in Paris with a purple crown embossed note to explain that, young Mr. Leeds being under age and "the necessary documents having failed to arrive," two weeks' delay is required.

The necessary documents will be given the once-over by Tino before there is any marrying or giving in marriage. The gold dust king wants to know that the tin plate king's dough follows the adolescent heir into the royal family. When the papers are in hand as well as the child the organist may proceed, but not until then.

Young Mr. Leeds not being of age, it might be contended later that he had not consented to the marriage, concerning which he does not seem to have been well informed at any time. His wooing has consisted mainly of guessing where he was and what might be going to happen to him.

It is important that Mr. Leeds be suitably dowered. Things have not been progressing favorably in Anatolia. Tino told the Greeks that the Turk was a setup and could easily be chased out of Angora. He seems to have used poor judgment. It is probable that if a serious Greek defeat results Tino will be getting his mail in Switzerland instead of Athens.

In that case he will need the tin plate fortune for pocket money, and it is important that when young Mr. Leeds is received into the family he should bring the bank account with him. Tino is a prudent king and does not intend to be found out on the street later selling shoe laces.

Mrs. Leeds, as a proud American mother, does not ask that her son be admitted on a pass. She demands that he be a man and pay his way. That is a proper American spirit. The Leeds are prepared to shoot the works.

Editorial of the Day

[Centralia Sentinel.]

A clerk in the postoffice department has responded to the postmaster general's request for suggestions as to how to economize in the public service as follows: "Every time a man or woman in the government service withholds a requisition for a pencil, a pad of paper, a ball of twine, a pen, or any other piece of equipment which upon second thought he realizes he does not need, he has by that act really done as good work as if he had put the money value of the article into the public treasury. Small economies by the millions, when multiplied by the thousands, will result in great savings."

The postmaster general was so impressed by the common sense of this letter that he has circulated it throughout the department.

If more of us Americans who are worried about our personal finances during these distressed days would act upon this postal clerk's philosophy we would find it easier to make both ends meet.

VERS LIBRE VERSUS.

Sir: Speaking of poetry and free verse, we say that I have never seen a bushy of suggestions, notes and half finished poems that might be classed as vers libre, but as I do not desire to shine as an imagist, versist, cubist, et cetera, please excuse me from furnishing you with some of these lines.
Every one, I think, should stick to his own art, and express himself as he sees fit.

Free verse is not to be too sure, time will tell, for as far as can judge, it will never do so.
It is generally too slipshod, banal, naive, unpoetic in its appeal. Of course, in the mass, there are exceptions. Good free verse is scarce. I enjoy immensely certain poems of Whitman and others.

Poetry does not necessarily need to be rhymed to prove itself worthy of praise. It should, however, be something more than a catalogue of facts;
it should be vague and grotesque; it should not clear the sky for our eyes. The poet should create an unusual juxtaposition of words and startling phrases. When it does do this, the result, to my mind, is absurd. But I am not a critic. I have written too much bad verse myself to say that rhyme is the only medium of expression for real poets.

Because of the many queries received concerning the statement that the jungle would eventually be published in an anthology, we wish to amplify it. P. D. Gog, who is doing graduate work at the University of Wisconsin, has written us that a part of his research was in that field.
The material will be submitted to him for classification and study. We quote from his letter:

"I feel perhaps no better than I do that the jungle of the world is so poorly understood. It is a coincidence that such a task, as well as mine, is to make a jungle of the world.
I am perfectly with your present work . . . to classify them, then, to their sources, and put them in such a form that they may become a permanent contribution to English folklore. The field is not virgin, but it offers a wonderful opportunity for research. I should not be limited to jungle associated with play, but should include the serious and nonsense rhymes."

We publish today a few lines of which put one version of each has been received:

KEEPING HANDS CLEAN.

SOILED hands are responsible for a great deal of trouble. The surgeon and obstetrician have found this out and when they operate their hands are clean beyond reproach. Physicians who handle contagion may have found it out, but they do not always practice it.
The balance of us fall down very much worse.

An ordinary washing with soap and water does considerable good, but is far from being a sterilizing procedure. In the first place we do not devote enough time to the rite. Observation shows that the average woman consumes 29.2 seconds in washing and drying her hands, the average man 44.4 seconds, and the average baby 36.3 seconds—
not enough time for a good job.

In the second place soap and water are cleansing, but not sterilizing. Conover and Laird found that all of the antiseptic soaps they tried, and they worked with most of those in the market, the only soaps with any degree of sterilizing power were those made with mercuric iodide. Even this soap was very uncertain in its antiseptic action, and after fifty washings an ordinary cake of it had very little of such power. Other experiments have had the same results with antiseptic soaps.

Having found soaps unsatisfactory, Conover and Laird tried the various hand antiseptics solutions. The very best of their group was a mixture of equal parts of food chloride of lime and boric acid. These two chemicals are easily ground into a powder, and put in paraffin paper boxes, or wrapped to hold the chlorine. Forty-five grains of this powder is about a level teaspoonful, is dissolved in a quart of water. This solution must be used within three hours. It loses its sterilizing power after thirty people have used a pan of it or one person has used it thirty times. The solution must not come in contact with metal.

Ordinarily the hands are sterile after soaking in this for fifteen seconds, but a one minute exposure is advised.

If the chlorine color on the hands is objectionable, a light washing in dilute ammonia water or dilute vinegar water will remove it.

All sorts of phenol solutions as hand washes were found to be too sure, and their antiseptic action. Bichloride of mercury solutions and formalin solutions were too hard on the skin. A 1 percent copper sulphate solution gave very good results. The authors are not certain as to its efficiency and refused to indorse it, at least until they have experimented further. Antiseptic skin varnishes did not prove satisfactory.

The best method of keeping hands clean is to make the chloride of lime and boric acid mixture cost 45 cents for each two pounds.

"LOST" HUSBAND LIVED IN AN OPEN BOAT 4 MONTHS

Washington, D. C., Sept. 23.—(Special.)—After police and detectives in all parts of the country had conducted a fruitless search for him and his 10 year old daughter, Cora, for the last four months, William H. Spencer, an electrical engineer and former newspaper man, was found yesterday in a camp at Oceanview, near Norfolk, Va., at the foot of Chesapeake bay.

During the time he and his daughter were missing, Spencer, said, they were living in an open boat on Chesapeake bay or on the Potomac river. He adopted this mode of life, he declared, to regain his shattered health, wrecked in the world war. He accomplished this and picked up fifty pounds in weight.

Search Was Kept Up.
Since their mysterious disappearance from home the wife and mother, Mrs. Nellie May Spencer, has never given up the search for them. Police in every city were asked to be on the lookout, and private detectives were employed in the search. Mrs. Spencer left today for Norfolk to bring her wandering husband and little daughter back home.

In his report to the Virginia authorities Spencer said his work in chemical experiments during the war shattered his health and made him unable to work upon return from the conflict. Physicians told him, he said, it was imperative that he live in the open air, which would enable him to throw off more rapidly the chemical poison in his system, and this decided him to spend the summer next to nature.

Failed to Inform Wife.

Lack of money precluded this by any other means than the one he selected—the open boat. He left home without informing his wife of his plans, taking Cora with him. His wife had sufficient means of her own, he said, on which to live.

Spencer was surprised when he learned that his wife had not heard from him since his departure, as he said he had written her several letters, the last from Oceanview Sunday, in which he informed her that he was about to start on his return trip. He used Mrs. Spencer's old address, not knowing that she had changed her residence since he left.

BRITISH MINES IN PERIL; WAGE SUBSIDY ENDS

(Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.)
LONDON, Sept. 23.—A serious crisis again is threatening the British mining industry because of the expiration on Friday of the period for which the state subsidy of wages was granted.

The miners and owners will meet in a conference tomorrow in London to consider the situation and, while it is not likely that there will be another strike, the danger cannot be ignored, particularly as the men are angry over the mixup in the South Wales fields which led the owners to shut down the mines, throwing thousands out of work.

It is stated that there is still $12,000,000 out of the $40,000,000 set aside for the subsidy unexpended and both the owners and miners are putting in claims.

JOBLESS PARLEY, FORGING AHEAD, TO MEET FRIDAY

Washington, D. C., Sept. 23.—Due to rapid progress by committees in formulating recommendations, the national conference on unemployment will begin consideration of a general emergency relief program Friday, five days earlier than had originally been planned, it was announced tonight.

In addition to the report of the manufacturers' committee recommendations on emergency measures will be reported Friday by the committee on unemployment statistics, employment agencies and registration, emergency public works and construction. Other reports will be considered as completed, it was said.

Let PEACOCK'S Help You Select Fall Wedding Gifts

So many people come into a jewelry store only when contemplating an actual purchase that we take this means of inviting you to visit Peacock's any time—and that is true whether you are contemplating a purchase or not.

We want you to feel just as free and welcome to come in and look around as you do in any other kind of a store. This is your store. Will you so regard it? And each and every member of this organization will gladly place at your disposal their knowledge and experience in jewelry, silverware and precious stones.

Furthermore this is a store for all the people. It is intended for the benefit of everyone no matter what the size of their purchase may be. And so you will find the range of values unusually large.

Nothing could better illustrate this fact than the splendid line of silverware, so appropriate for Fall weddings, which you may now see at Peacock's. In the illustration is shown a Sterling silver three piece coffee set of an exclusive design, hand chased—a set of which the most critical may well be proud. The three piece set is $205, the Tray $110.

A more moderate gift is the set of Sterling Colonial candlesticks, 10 inches high, at $28 the pair; or the 16-inch trumpet Vase, with hand engraved design, at $42; a very unusual 4 1/4 inch Sterling salt and pepper in the Adam period at $16 the pair; the attractive individual salt and peppers, 1 1/2 inches high, at $2.50 the pair; or the Sterling basket, 5 1/2 in. wide, at $12.

These are merely suggestions from a wide variety. Will you come in and see for yourself the many new and unusual things we are showing?

Through four generations Peacock's have been supplying the families of Chicago and vicinity with wedding gifts. The name "Peacock" on the box or package further enhances the value of the wedding gift.

'AGRARIAN BLOC' FIGHTS TAXES ON TRANSPORTATION

Washington, D. C., Sept. 28.—[Special.]—Senators of both parties in the so-called agricultural "bloc" began to organize their forces today to obtain repeal of the transportation taxes and to prevent repeal of the excess profits tax and the reduction of the higher sugar rates.

It was announced that a meeting of the "bloc" would be held within a day or two, probably Friday, to coordinate action on these propositions. The claim was made that sufficient votes are in sight to insure the complete elimination of taxes on freight, passenger, Pullman, and express transportation. Such an amendment was offered today by Senator McNary, Oregon, Republican. While the transportation taxes were repealed in the house bill, the senate finance committee restored them in modified form.

Fight to Cut Income Tax.

Some of the "agricultural" members on the Republican side expect to join with the Democrats in support of amendments reducing the normal tax rate on individual incomes. A considerable number on each side will seek to increase the tax on inheritance.

A stiff fight is in prospect. Senator Penrose, finance committee chairman, admits he is uncertain as to the outcome of efforts to amend any of these principal features in the bill. He said it was immaterial to him whether the transportation taxes were eliminated, or not, but if this were done, meaning a revenue loss of considerably more than $100,000,000, it would be necessary to make up the deficit in some other way.

MINERS UPHOLD LEWIS AGAINST HOWATT POLICY

Indianapolis, Ind., Sept. 28.—Alexander M. Howatt, president of the Kansas coal miners, was directed today by the 2 to 1 vote of the convention of the United Mine Workers of America to order strikers at two Kansas mines back to work. Immediately after the convention's decision Howatt declared

he would not carry out the order.

Howatt expects to leave early tomorrow to appear in court at Columbus, Kas., on Friday. He declared he would go to jail rather than give the bond required by the court not to call any more strikes.

Jail Likely for Howatt.

Pittsburg, Kas., Sept. 28.—Application of attorneys for Alexander M.

Howatt and August Dorchy, the latter vice president of Kansas district, for another extension of time to perfect

an appeal to the Supreme court, was refused by Judge Frank W. Boes, at Columbus. They are due in court Friday morning.

It is expected that Howatt's refusal to give bond not to call any more strikes pending their appeal, which

Judge Boes made a condition of extending the time, will cause Howatt and Dorchy to go to jail to serve the six months' sentence which Judge

Boes imposed last June when they were heard on charges of contempt of court.

DEATHS IN COAL MINE ACCIDENTS SHOW A DECREASE

Washington, D. C., Sept. 28.—[Special.]—Reports received by the United States bureau of mines from the various state mine inspectors show that

141 men were killed in and about the coal mines of the country in the month of August, as compared with

293 killed in the corresponding month in 1920. The figures indicate a decrease of approximately 51 per cent from the fatality record of August of last year.

The average number of lives lost

during August of each year, from 1913 to 1920, has been 219.

During the first eight months of the present year 1,290 men were killed by accidents at coal mines, against 1,489

killed during the corresponding months of 1920, a decrease of 199 fatalities.

How Yeast Vitamon Tablets Put On Firm Flesh

Increase Your Energy, Banish Skin Eruptions and Beautify the Complexion—Easy and Economical to Take—Results Quick.

Thin or run-down folks will find this simple test well worth trying: First weigh yourself and measure yourself. Next take Mastin's VITAMON—two tablets with every meal. Then weigh and measure yourself again each week and continue taking VITAMON regularly until you are satisfied with your gain in weight and energy. Mastin's VITAMON tablets contain highly concentrated yeast-vitamines as well as the two other still more important vitamins (Fat soluble A and Water soluble C), all of which Science says you must have to be strong, well and fully developed. They are now being used by thousands who appreciate their convenience, economy and quick results. By increasing the nourishing power of what you eat, Mastin's VITAMON supplies just what your body needs to feed the shrunken tissues, strengthen internal organs, clear the skin and renew shattered nerve force without upsetting the stomach or causing gas. Pimples, boils and skin eruptions seem to vanish as if by magic and the complexion becomes radiantly clear and beautiful. But it is not only a question of how much better you look and feel, or what your friends say and think—the scales and tape measure will tell their own story. A two weeks' test will surprise you.

Important: While the amazing health-building value of Mastin's VITAMON tablets has been clearly and positively demonstrated in cases of lack of energy, nervous troubles, anaemia, indigestion, constipation, skin eruptions, poor complexion and a generally weakened physical and mental condition, they should not be used by anyone who OBJECTS to having his weight increased to normal. Be sure to remember the name Mastin's VITAMON—the original and genuine yeast-vitamine tablet—there is nothing else like it, so do not accept imitations or substitutes. You can get Mastin's VITAMON Tablets at all good druggists.

Do you know what constitutes a strong constitution?

To have sound, healthy nerves, completely under control, digestive organs that are capable of absorbing a hearty meal, means you have a strong constitution! Your general attitude is one of optimism and energy.

But an irritable disposition, frequent attacks of indigestion, and a languid depression, indicate your system is not in correct working order.

Probably you are not eating the proper food. Probably the nutritious elements are not being supplied to your system in the proper way.

Grape-Nuts is the wholesome, delicious cereal that promotes normal digestion, absorption and elimination, whereby nourishment is accomplished without auto-intoxication. A mixture of energy-giving wheat and malted barley comprise the chief elements of Grape-Nuts. A dish at breakfast or lunch is an excellent, wholesome rule to follow.

You can order Grape-Nuts at any and every hotel, restaurant, and lunch room; on dining cars, on lake boats and steamers; in every good grocery, large and small, in every city, town or village in North America.

OILDAG

The World's Best Lubricant

"Costs more per gallon—reduces operating cost per mile"

USED AND ENDORSED BY SOME OF THE BEST KNOWN MEN IN THE AUTOMOTIVE WORLD

Your engine, fine as it may be, will be a better engine when Oildag replaces oil as its lubricant. Oildag does more than lubricate. It creates new surfaces, gradually improves compression, reduces internal friction by half, thereby insuring longer motor life, less motor trouble, and marked operating economy.

Oildag's efficiency lies in the Colloidal Graphite which it contains; a new form of graphite, that has the power of combining with metal surfaces, forming an amalgam of wonderful durability as close grained and frictionless as polished glass.

Dr. Edward G. Acheson, the genius of the electric furnace, produced Colloidal Graphite and is the man behind Oildag.

Fill your engine with Oildag. Daily you will notice improvement in its pulling power and its dash. After 2000 miles, with the "graphoid" surfaces thoroughly established, your engine is so free from friction that it could be run for hours without a drop of liquid lubricant, if your crank case were accidentally drained, and no harm would result.

Telephone Calumet 999 for nearest service station; or look for the big green and yellow OILDAG sign that marks our dealers. Fill your engine today—take a can home. Write for literature.

A Can of OILDAG in Your Garage Cures the "quart of oil" habit and gives you an improved, progressive lubricating policy.

Lumber Prices at Sawmills

Down to Rock Bottom

AFTER a steady decline from the high level of the post-war period, lumber at the sawmills has reached rock bottom. Many items, in fact, are now selling at the sawmills for less than the cost of production.

Today the prices at which lumber is being sold at the sawmills by the lumber manufacturers average less than one-half of the prices a year ago. Some items are lower in price than before the war.

How Lumber Prices at the Sawmills Have Dropped

THE manufacturers' price at the sawmills for ordinary building lumber is only 40% of what it was eighteen months ago.

Flooring has dropped over 60%, heavy timbers for bridges and factories 50%, fence boards 60%.

Only a small proportion of the output of American sawmills—largely special items—is now yielding any profit to the sawmill man.

Overproduction Everywhere—Keen Competition

LUMBER was the last commodity to go up in price and the first to come down.

There are 30,000 sawmills trying to sell their product to a market which now could be supplied easily by 20,000.

Lumber is the cheapest as well as the most satisfactory material for home building.

R. S. SHARP PEN SHOWS U. S. LAX IN WAR OF 1898

New York, Sept. 28.—A terse history of the Spanish-American war as seen through the eyes of its most famous participant came to light today when Theodore Roosevelt presented the war diary to the war memorial association.

The diary is a record of experiences and impressions, made up of laconic notes, some historical, some critical, some aimed at the "stupidity of the war department," while the color of the diary is the belief that in the war there was "no management at all."

The diary is a small pocket volume containing notes in pencil and ink, part of it has ever been published.

How Teddy Saw It.

Some of the most characteristic entries follow:

May 6, 1898.—Commissioned Lt. U. S. Voluntary cavalry. Wood at my choice.

May 7.—The delays and stupidity of the war department surpass belief. The quartermaster's department better, but bad. The commissary department is good. There is no management whatever in the war department. Against a good nation we should win.

May 11.—The blunders and delays of the war department surpass belief. I express us stuff we don't need and use the rifles by slow freight! There is no head, no energy, no intelligence in the war department.

Praise for Gen. Wood.

May 18.—Quota nearly filled. It is amazing how rapidly we have mounted, and drilled these men. The power of work and executive ability are wonderful.

May 18.—Railway system tends to break down. Intermittent delays; no facilities for unloading horses and water, or feed, etc., etc.

May 20.—Reached Tampa in morning.

ing. Railway system in wildest confusion; it took us twelve hours to get into camp with our baggage.

June 5.—No words can paint the confusion. No head; a breakdown of both the railroad and military systems of the country.

June 6.—No plans; no staff officers; no instructions to us. Each officer finds out for himself and takes his chances. We are doing as well as the regular regiments. Have very light baggage.

"Utter Confusion."

June 8.—Told to go aboard transport. Worst confusion yet. No allotment of transports; no plans; utter confusion.

June 10.—Reached Santiago.

June 22.—Landed.

June 23.—Marched.

June 24.—Fought—Las Guasimas. We drove enemy in fine shape. Lost sixty men killed and wounded twenty, slight.

July 1.—Rose at 4. Big battle. Commanded regiment. Held extreme front of firing line.

July 3.—Truce at noon. Spanish fleet destroyed.

July 4.—Truce. Mismanagement horrible. No head to army.

July 10.—Bombardment again.

Rough Riders Extended Lines.

July 11.—Truce again. Shifted camp a mile to extend lines. Heaviest rain yet, at night.

July 17.—Surrender at Santiago.

July 18.—Shifted camp to foothills. One-half of men of my regiment dead or disabled by wounds or sickness.

Mrs. Roosevelt also presented the Roosevelt Memorial association with the spectacle case and manuscript of an address, placed by a bullet aimed at Roosevelt in Milwaukee in 1912. It was from this manuscript that Roosevelt, a half hour later, read his campaign speech with the assassin's bullet still imbedded in his body.

July 1.—Rose at 4. Big battle. Commanded regiment. Held extreme front of firing line.

President Harding has indorsed the movement to found a permanent exhibit of manuscripts, personal memoranda, and other material relating to Theodore Roosevelt, the Roosevelt Memorial association announced today. He said such an endeavor was a public service.

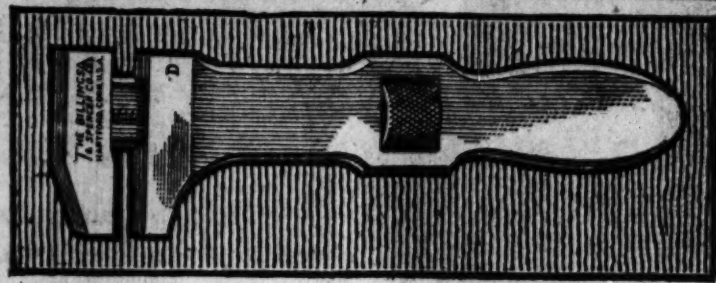

The president called Roosevelt the third in America's great triumvirate, Washington and Lincoln being the others.

Why the public believes in Regal Shoes at the Regal low prices ~ ~ ~

If you have been around among the stores lately—you probably have noticed that the place where people are really buying shoes is in the Regal Shoe Stores.

Yet there are perhaps a dozen other shoes advertised in the papers.

Prices often as low as Regal prices—maybe even a dollar or so lower. Beside "sacrifice sales," "surplus stocks" and all the other signs of slow selling to a reluctant public.

People buy where they believe they get their money's worth.

How they get the facts, no one knows—but the American public always finds the genuine merchandise.

Before the year is out, the Regal increase will total 100,000 more pairs of shoes than last year.

Regal genuine King Calf, Kid, Cordovan. Regal oak-tanned soles—the real thing. Regal linings of glovel leather or top-grade canvas. Regal silk stitching. Every Regal shoe seasoned for days on the last. No left-overs—but this season's freshest custom styles.

Regal prices—$7.50, $8.50, $9.50.

Try to save even a dollar below these prices and something vital comes out of the quality of the shoe. Buffed side-leather perhaps, instead of genuine calfskin. Chemical tanned soles. Cotton stitching instead of silk. Possibly other substitutes where they don't show.

Regal Store-service is honest, courteous and satisfying; because Regal has so much to show and nothing whatever to hide.

Three generations of American women have depended on Fruit of the Loom.

The only difference between this standard fabric now and seventy years ago is that modern methods have made today's quality even a little better than of old.

But you have one advantage your grandmother did not have. She could buy Fruit of the Loom only by the yard or piece. You can also buy ready-made garments of Fruit of the Loom.

Leading manufacturers of articles that require durable cloth are now using Fruit of the Loom. You can get reliable brands of pajamas, nightgowns, sheets, pillow cases, and men's and boys' shirts, ready-made of Fruit of the Loom. STAGE ATHLETES GROOMING DARK HORSE TWIRLER

'Vets' Have Strong Team
for Benefit Ball Game.

"Say It With Jobs."

BY T. J. BONNIWELL.

Eddie Collins has agreed to manage the actors' baseball team when they play Capt. Myron Adams' disabled veterans at the Cubs' park, Monday, Oct. 3. "Kid" Gleason will umpire back of the bat; William Killefer at third base; Grover Cleveland Alexander at second base, and De Wolf Hopper at first base.

In the event of the veterans running up a big score, Eddie Collins will try and save the day by putting in one of the above mentioned Cub players, as they are eligible, all having faced the hardships in days gone by.

The actors' dark horse pitcher has been practicing in private, and twirls the pill like a professional, says Fred Stone. The advance sale of tickets has been heavy. Capt. Hartman of the American Legion states that they have been "cleaned out" two or three times.

Capt. Adams at the Fort Sheridan association also reports that the demand has been very brisk.

Twenty-five boxes already taken. Twenty-five boxes have been subscribed for, the last being to Mr. Burton I. Budd. Among the box subscribers yesterday were Theodore Roosevelt and Aviation post of the American Legion and William J. Gerardo, candidate for downstate vice commander of the Legion.

Society will be well represented, and practically every big business interest, church, club, and well known organization has bought tickets to help the jobless veterans to weather the winter at the old Grand Pacific hotel, which will be opened up from the proceeds of the game.

Vets Announce Lineup.
Two old Chicago semi-pro stars and one man who won his numerals on the freshman team at the University of Chicago will play with the wounded service men.
Harry Trinker, second baseman, formerly played with the Normal Park, and William C. Wise, third baseman, was with the Logan Squares. Max S. Lambert, utility man, formerly was one of the freshman stars at Stagg field.

The other members of the soldiers' team, announced yesterday by Capt. Myron E. Adams of the Fort Sheridan association, are James Stiller, formerly of University of Wisconsin, pitcher; Ray J. Hoffman, Mayo college, first base; Clifford S. Hawley, shortstop; John A. Hartman, left field; H. De Baum, center field; and F. Walker, right field. Walker has only one arm, the other having been amputated after a shell wound in France.

Editor Shaffer of the Post will help do this with a little talk on "Higher Motives in Journalism." Co-editor Robert R. McCormick of THE TRIBUNE will respond with "A Few Words from a Friend and Founder," and Prof. H. F. Harrington, the new director of the school, will tell of its working methods and present its teaching staff. C. H. Galloway, president of the school's newly organized Joseph Medill Press club, will introduce his fellowmembers. That will be about all, except that

Once in a while we understand friend or family through the sharp light of a powerful piece of fiction

For such vigorous and revealing fiction, over 2,000,000 families are going to a woman's magazine!

WHEN one woman walked, with a clear conscience, out of the front door, and actually left a good husband and three babies—in order to find her own soul—countless husbands sat up bewildered and gave thought.

Wives, mothers, daughters quivered—then thrilled at the new understanding of their own possibilities.

A piece of fiction!—Nora's action in Ibsen's "Doll's House" had shaken violently men's and women's comfortable assumptions. Affected profoundly the thoughts and actions of an entire generation.

When Brieux flung full in the face of the world his "Damaged Goods," tens of millions of women stared wide into each others' eyes. When Shaw flashed his "Getting Married" upon a scandalized society, he clarified for thousands of men and women, married or about to be married, their own ideas and attitudes regarding marriage.

Do magazines realize the power of fiction which illuminates so startlingly our deepest problems? Have any of them guessed the strength of its following?

Women—the demanders of vigorous fiction

YEARS ago, all women's magazines were blandly offering their readers mere "stories" as a complement to the more helpful household and needlework pages.

Then Pictorial Review boldly stepped out of the ranks. It was the first to print a novel not written down to a supposedly immature public. A novel stripped of sentimentality. Free of compromise with the conventional requirements.

From that day on, Pictorial Review has had an assured following, on account of the character of its fiction. A steady, continually increasing number of women have learned to look to Pictorial Review for fiction that actually vivifies. It is the vindication of Pictorial Review's belief that women are the most discriminating readers of fiction.

Four novels now being widely discussed were first printed in Pictorial Review

DURING the past year, Pictorial Review gave to its readers the first opportunity to read four of the season's best sellers and much discussed novels. Every one of them had a special meaning.

Edith Wharton's "Age of Innocence" is being read by millions for its sharp contrast between the insincerities and cramping restrictions of the generation that preceded us and the sincerities and freedom of our own day.

Booth Tarkington's "Alice Adams" draws reader after reader to its pages for its pitiless picture of the heart of a girl such as we are constantly meeting.

Joseph C. Lincoln's "Calusha the Magnificent," whimsical and heart-warming, and Kathleen Norris's "Beloved Woman," a searching study of family indulgences, touched widely differing points of response. In the current issue, Corra Harris's "Eyes of Love" throws light on perplexities that beset young couples of today.

IN short stories, the field in which American writers excel, Pictorial Review has on three separate occasions been accorded first rank among popular magazines. On the newsstands today is the October issue, in which eight masters of the short story, whose rank is high on both sides of the Atlantic, light up the life that is around us.

Each of these stories deals vividly with our own civilization, our dreams, or the situations we have actually to meet.

Such fiction wins an assured and loyal following. To meet its demand Pictorial Review is printing 2,100,000 copies of its October issue.

Hugh Walpole	Holworthy Hall	Melville Davisson Post	Wallace Irwin	Irvin S. Cobb
Wilbur Daniel Steele	Nina Wilcox Putnam	Clarence Budington Kelland	Ellis Parker Butler	Maxwell Struthers Burt
Stacy Aumonier	May Sinclair	Ethel Watts Mumford	Samuel Hopkins Adams	Jeanette Marks
Susan Glaspell	Frances Noyes Hart	Mary Synnott	Achmed Abdullah	Edith Barnard Delano
Louis Joseph Vance	Elinor Mordaunt	Richard Washburn Child	Eleanor Hallowell Abbott	Mary Cholmondeley

are among the short story writers of first rank whose sincerity and vividness enrich the pages of Pictorial Review.

$3.25 BREAD ON WATERS BACK AS $15,000 FORTUNE

Navy Man Rewarded for Aiding 'Broke' Stranger

BY MARTHA.
Northern Mortha, then, had troubled himself about many things.
Fifteen thousand dollars for $3.25—
some interest!

That's what Paul Gardiner, late side machinist in the United States navy, got, and it came about this way:
Gardiner was walking along in a
New Jersey city while on shore leave one day about five years ago, when a stranger, apparently about 50 years old, shabbily but neatly dressed, stopped up to him.

"My name is James Jordan," said the man. "I want to get home, my lad, and I'm broke. I wonder if you could help me out?"

"How much do you need?" asked Gardiner, looking the stranger over and reflecting that he looked honest and really in need. The man said he needed $3.25. Gardiner hesitated, but heally said:

"Well, it's unusual to give a stranger that much money, but if you are an earnest about it, I'll buy you a ticket."

Gratified Stranger Goes On His Way.
The stranger was overjoyed. Gardiner walked to the railway station with him, and when he left him in possession of the ticket the man said:

"I'll never forget this, my boy. Give me a card, and I'll return this favor
some day."

Gardiner had no card, but wrote his name on the back of an old envelope for the man.

That was five years ago. Nine weeks ago Gardiner was mustered out of the navy at Great Lakes, and when he was about to re-enlist for another four years
they handed him a letter.

It was from a law firm in Buffalo and it informed him he was the sole beneficiary of James Jordan of that city. The letter contained a check for $4,000 and a deed to property in California.
The law firm which sent the letter at the same time offered Gardiner $11,000 for the California property.
But Gardiner refused to sell.

"I'll keep it," he said. "If it's worth $11,000 to them it's worth that to me."

And that is why Gardiner, whose home is Ridgewood, L. I., and who is 32 years old, and who has spent twelve years in the navy, did not re-enlist, but sailed yesterday for Los Angeles to look over his property, saying:

"Some interest—SOME interest."

The first true bill against an aero-

Strand was unable to appear in court.

LANDIS BEGINS TO "CLEAN HOUSE" IN BUILDING MUDDLE

Turns Ire on the Rebels of Both Factions.

Judge Landis started his "grand house cleaning" in the building muddle yesterday. Contractors, union agents, and material men who have boasted prices and ignored the Landis wage decision all came in for a share of the arbiter's ire.

As a result, Fred Weyman and George Forre, business agents of the lathers' union, have been ordered to appear before the judge this morning and explain why they demanded that their men be paid the old wage of $1.25 an hour. Forre was quoted as saying he would not allow any of his men to work for less than $5 a week, and Roger Kirwin, a contractor, informed Judge Landis he had been compelled to hand Weyman a check for the difference between the old and new wage scales.

Finds Materials Cheaper.
Judge Landis questioned all of the parties concerning reported increases in the prices of building materials within the last thirty days. Most materials, he found, are cheaper now than a year ago. Lewis L. Barth, vice president of the Edward Hines Lumber company, admitted some lumber prices have gone up since the Landis award was announced, but stated others have come down. Judge Landis wanted to know if the Chicago Retail Lumber Dealers' association had been dissolved and was informed that it had not been.

"Get after those fellows who have not been behaving themselves," was his parting admonition to Mr. Barth.
William Schickels, president of the Associated Builders, submitted a list of contractor members of that organization who have violated the Landis agreement by paying the old wage scale, but the list asked of E. M. Craig, secretary of the Building Construction Employers' association, was not forthcoming.

Submits List Today.
Mr. Craig explained the only names
he could submit were those of independent contractors. He promised to enlarge this list and submit it this morning.

It was reported that all of the trades quit work on the 23rd plan plant in South Chicago when policemen were stationed about the building to protect nonunion carpenters.

Mortgage loan bankers have been subpoenaed to appear before the Daley commission when it resumes its hearings today to testify to the rates of interest and commissions charged home builders.

WOMAN WHO RAN FOR ALDERMAN GETS DIVORCE

Mrs. Laura P. Young, prominent club woman and at one time Democratic candidate for alderman of the thirty-third ward, has been granted a divorce from William Foster Young, president of Benjamin
H. Sanborn & Co., publishers. Judge
Thomas J. Lynch of the Circuit court signed the decree, which was based on a charge of desertion.

By the decree
Young is ordered to pay Mrs.
Young $150 a month alimony.
He is also required to continue to pay the premiums on a $15,000 life insurance policy in which his former wife is named as beneficiary.

Will of R. J. McLaughlin
Probated Without Change
The will of Robert J. McLaughlin, son of the founder of the William Mc-Laughlin company, coffee merchants, who left his estate of $700,000 to his widow, Maud J. McLaughlin, was admitted to probate yesterday. No changes were made in the estate since it was first taken into the Probate court three months ago.

Nurse's Hypnotic Power
Leads to Plea for Divorce
Henry A. P. Nebauer, dealer in bakers' supplies, yesterday charged in a bill for divorce in the Circuit court that a nurse had exercised hypnotic control over his wife, inducing her to leave him.

MAROONS TO BE FORMIDABLE FOE FOR PRINCETON

BY WALTER ECKERSALL.

With Princeton and Chicago, representative football teams of the east and middle west, which will meet in one of the most important inter-collegiate struggles of the year on the gridiron on Oct. 22, going into action for the first time this season on Saturday, gridiron fans will start to draw conclusions as to the probable result of the east versus west battle.

Early indications point to this game's being a harder fought struggle than most fans believed at the time the home and home games were arranged. When Coach Stagg scheduled the contest with the Tigers, material on the Midway did not look good enough to form a team to combat the powerful machine to be developed by Coach Bill Roper this fall.

Surprising Wealth of Talent. The Maroon mentor has the best squad of material this season that he has worked with in the thirty years he has been in charge of football on the Midway. There is an abundance of line and backfield candidates, and best of all, most of them have a fairly good knowledge of the game.

An idea of the worth of the men will be shown in Saturday's game with Northwestern. Fans will be notched the same as in every opening struggle, but the Maroon mentor will have three weeks in which to correct them. Following the Purple clash, Purdue will be the Maroons' opponent on the same gridiron on Oct. 8. These two contests should furnish Stagg with a definite idea of the capabilities of his men.

Chicago has no game scheduled on Oct. 18. The Maroons will put in the day at hard practice, and should leave for the east a few days later in superb condition. The Midway mentor will have two weeks in which to teach his men new plays, and at least a week to evolve a defense for the Tigers' attack.

Princeton Meets Navy First. While Chicago is resting on Oct. 15, Princeton will be called upon to battle one of the strongest eleven in the east. The Tigers will journey to Annapolis to play the Navy, which defeated the Army last season, and also played consistent football in every class.

Whether Coach Stagg will make the trip east to get a first hand glance at the Tigers is not known, but it certainly would be a golden opportunity for him. Princeton will have to play a lot of football to win from the midshipmen, and Stagg could collect a lot of valuable data concerning Princeton's offensive and defensive strength.

The Maroon coach undoubtedly will show a lot of football against the Tigers, and he will not care if Big Ten coaches see all of it.

Kicking Will Be a Factor. While it is rather early to predict the sort of game the Maroons and Chicago will play, it is a certainty kicking will be one of the factors in determining the winner.

Coach Roper, like other eastern mentors, is a firm believer in the punting game and in Dou Louri, All-American quarterback, he has a kicker who is about the equal of any on the eastern gridiron.

For the first time in years Chicago will be fortified in this department. Bobbie Cole and Milton Romney can boot the oval for an average of forty yards, and if the ends cover the attempts properly the Maroons should not lose much ground on the exchanges.

JOCK IS BEATEN IN NATIONAL PRO TITLE MATCHES

New York, Sept. 28.—The elimination today of Jock Hutchison of Chicago, holder of the British open golf championship and playing-through defender of the Professional Golfers' association championship, was the first real upset of the tournament at the Inwood Country club. He was defeated by Gene Sarazen, Titusville, Pa., by the overwhelming score of 8 and 7. Hutchison was way off his usual form.

Jim Barnes of Pelham, N. Y., national open champion and twice holder of the professional title, and Walter Hagen, western open champion, won their matches.

In the matches tomorrow Barnes will play Fred McLeod of Washington; Hagen will oppose John Golden of Tuxedo; Sarazen will meet Cyril Walker of Englewood, N. J., and George McLean of Bronxville will play Emmet French, Youngstown.

CONFERENCE BANS POST-SEASON TILT

Bloomington, Ind., Sept. 28.—(Special.)—Indiana university will not play a post season football game with the University of Washington at Seattle as other schools of the western conference have refused to give their permission.

After receiving the offer, the athletic board gave its permission and the committee for the promotion of university interests said it had no objection.

The refusal of other schools of the conference is taken to mean that there will be no more post season games in the "big ten," such as Ohio State played last year with California.

BIG SPECIAL TO PRINCETON GAME

More than four cars, the original number chartered by John Bailey and William Gorman, University of Chicago students who will run a special train to Princeton for the Maroon-Princeton game Oct. 22, will be required to carry the Midway rosters, according to present indications. The train, which is to be run over the Pennsylvania lines, will leave the Union station at 5 p. m. Oct. 20. It will reach Princeton Saturday a. m.

THE GUMPS—REUNITED

GREAT CROWD TO VIEW MAROON-PURPLE GAME

A crowd of at least 15,000 is expected for the Chicago-Northwestern game at Stagg Field Sunday. Only part of the temporary seats that will be installed for the Ohio State and Wisconsin games later in the season, are in place, but there will be room for 30,000 spectators, and should the weather be ideal, the biggest crowd that ever witnessed the preliminary battle of the season on the field may be on hand.

More than half of the seats, including all five center sections of the big west concrete stand, have been sold for the season of five home games to students and alumni, leaving about 8,000 left on the west side for the general public. Practically the entire east stand has been turned over to Northwestern, and will be sold to students and Evanston fans.

Hold Dummy Scrimmage. The Maroons took a long dummy scrimmage without tackling in the afternoon drill yesterday, following a morning drill in rudiments, such as tackling, hitting the dummy, passing and kicking.

Charlie Redmon, the 215 pound veteran, is not in the best of condition, and it is probably he will be saved for the Princeton game on Oct. 22. The Maroons will have to win the forward wall to be won by sophomores, and it is these two positions that are giving Coach Stagg more worry than the other nine places on the team.

Mattered a Bit Light. With the failure of Horton and Pheny, the pair of 210 pounders from last year, to return, a new pair of men to flank the center must be chosen out of new material, all of which is about 180 pounds heavier than what usually is considered good guard material. Leatherman, Proudfoot, and Rourke look the best of the sophomores guards, but all three weigh around 175.

Dawson and Fletcher, the sophomores substitute tackles, who weigh about the same, are also in the guard scramble, and from them five men Coach Stagg will pick the pair to flank King, his 225 pound sophomore center.

MORE COACHES HELP M'DEVITT; PURPLE SPEEDS

With an increased coaching staff providing individual attention to the backfield players, thus letting Coach McDevitt and his assistants, Putnam, turn all their attention toward the development of the Northwestern line, the Purple team is making rapid strides and it is expected the squad that lines up against the Maroons Saturday will not be recognized as the same old Northwestern line.

For the last two days Paddy Driscoll, Northwestern leader and star kicker in 1918 and 1919, has been assisting McDevitt in directing the backfield. Under this array of backfield coaches the Purple team is making rapid strides and it is expected the squad that lines up against the Maroons Saturday will not be recognized as the same old Northwestern line.

FIGHT CONTRACT SENT TO WILLARD

New York, Sept. 28.—(Special.)—Tex Rickard today forwarded to Jess Willard a contract which calls for the Kansas farmer to do battle with Jack Dempsey some time next year.

According to the terms of the contract Rickard proposes to stage the contest some time between June 15 and July 5 of next year. Furthermore, it is agreed, the scramble will be for not less than twelve rounds nor more than fifteen.

Chicago Alumni of Illini to See Movies of Grid Men

The first and exclusive showing of the University of Illinois football candidates in action will be given today at a noon luncheon meeting of the Chicago Illini club at the Central Y. M. C. A. The 41m, prepared by the team committee, will show the veteran and sophomore gridiron aspirants and many of the new players and formations which Zupke plans to use during the campaign. A crowd of more than 300 Illini will attend the luncheon, according to E. E. Barrett, Chicago manager of the memorial stadium campaign.

MICHIGAN.
ANN ARBOR, Mich., Sept. 28.—(Special.)—Coach Yost today announced his lineup for the opening game of the season with Mount Union on Saturday. The selections are Kirk and Goebel, ends; Cappon and Muirhead, tackles; Capt. Dunne and Wilson, guards; Vick, center; Banks, quarterback; Fisher and Kipke, halves; Staketeen, full back.

INDIANA.
Bloomington, Ind., Sept. 28.—(Special.)—Indiana scrimmaged the freshmen for twenty minutes behind locked gates this evening and the first scrimmage of the season was carried out. The first scrimmage of the season was carried out. The first scrimmage of the season was carried out.

MINNESOTA.
Minneapolis, Minn., Sept. 28.—(Special.)—The Gophers had more than their usual share of playing time in their daily scrimmage, but their work did not bring any praise from Dr. Williams. The first scrimmage of the season was carried out. The first scrimmage of the season was carried out.

OHIO STATE.
Columbus, O., Sept. 28.—(Special.)—Capt. Myers was sent into practice tonight in the full back position. The shift from end was made when Huffman last year's captain, was moved from left tackle to left end. Myers is not new at the back field position, having played full back in his high school years and on the freshmen team. Stuart, who has been playing center left half, was injured while trying to tackle Freshman Half Back Cochran, who scored a touchdown against the varsity with a sixty yard run. Stuart's injury is not serious.

ILLINOIS.
Urbana, Ill., Sept. 28.—(Special.)—When the Illinois gridiron candidates dragged off the field tonight after the heavy scrimmage sessions, the assistant football managers looked out for a glimpse of a talk to about thirty men whom Zupke has named on a select list. The little coach believes that water is superior to the appetite of his warriors and therefore has ordered the milk diet. The lineup question is still unsettled as ever and Zupke will not intimate the men he has in mind for permanent jobs. The new men were given the chance in the scrimmage tonight.

WISCONSIN.
Madison, Wis., Sept. 28.—(Special.)—The Badger lineup which will meet Lawrence College in the football opener now is fairly certain. Coach Richards has changed his men about continually, but the present lineup seems the favorite. His biggest problem now is left end, vacated by Red Weston. The varsity had a light scrimmage following yesterday's heavy workout. The rest of the time was spent in a long signal practice.

DUNDEE, TUCKER READY FOR BOUT

Mike Dundee, Rock Island featherweight under the management of Dick Curley, and Frankie Tucker, local boxer, who meet in the main event of the boxing show to be staged by the Naval post of the American Legion aboard the U. S. S. Commodore tomorrow night, finished strenuous training yesterday.

Phil Collins, athletic director of the Naval post, has arranged three other bouts to support the main event. Pal Moore, local bantamweight, matched to meet Frankie Garcia at Memphis on Monday night, worked at the Arcade, where he boxed three rounds with Kid Hogan. He will train at the same place today and leave for the battleground tomorrow night.

MICHIGAN CITY ELEVEN TO PLAY.
Michigan City, Ind., Sept. 28.—(Special.)—The Michigan City team will open its 1921 season here Sunday against the crack Gary Cardinals. Included in the Legion lineup is Andy Gill, former Indiana university star; Barr, formerly of Wisconsin; and Dubuque, formerly of Minnesota.

ONLY SIMPLE PLAYS TAUGHT AT PROVISIO

BY JAMES CRUSINBERRY.
Simple plays well executed are better than complicated shifts liable to be messed. Such is the belief of Coach Kenneth Coutech, the new football director of the Proviso High school, who is trying to construct a grid machine out of a squad of healthy and wholesome lads in the western suburb, lads, however, who have a lot to learn about the game.

When Mr. Coutech started the drill of a squad of sixty boys he discovered that there were only two of the regulars of last year's eleven back on the job and that it would be his task to build a new machine around those two.

Teaches the "Works."
Consequently he had to start at the beginning and teach all the fundamentals of the game. In a couple of weeks he had an outfit that won from the Austin team of the Chicago league, 14 to 6, so he believes now that the regulars of last year's eleven back on the job and that it would be his task to build a new machine around those two.

A strong running half back in Warren and a brilliant end in Kassel are all that remain of the 1921 regulars. Around these two, the machine is being built from subs of last year and new men.

There's a strong runner in Berlin, who seems sure of being the half back to work with Warren. A lad named Jarus, who has strength and driving power as well as speed far above the average, has been placed at full back. Jarus, a new man, has stepped into the quarter back job, knowing better than any of the other candidates.

Former Lights Fight for Berth
Two boys from last year's lightweights, Burnett and Ballard, are fighting for the end position left open. Kassel being assigned to the other extremity. Myers is sure of one tackle position and is slated to do the punting, as his boots the ball better than anyone on the squad. The other tackle will be chosen from numerous candidates.

Klug, a sub last year, and Meyn, a new man, look about the best of the

WINNER AT SKOKIE

With consistent rounds of 70-78-145, Eddie Loos, the Ravinia professional, yesterday led a field of more than seventy-five starters in the first annual open tournament held at Skokie Country club. By virtue of his victory, the popular south side "pro" was enriched to the extent of $125 as first money. He started by registering 23 on the outward nine holes of the forenoon and returning in 37. On the round his card showed that he scored three birdies and was equal to par figures.

Second Prize to Gullikson.
After luncheon Loos played the first nine in 35, getting two birdies, but came home in 49 and was five above par for the final eighteen holes.

Second prize, $75, lodged with Lloyd Gullikson, the former Jackson park amateur and now a young professional, who had 148. Gullikson had difficulty in the forenoon, when he took 38-40-78, but notched a fine 35-35-70 after luncheon. In this effort he had five birdies, sank several long putts, and drove out of bounds at the eighteenth.

Alfred Higborth, the Park Ridge professional, won third prize, $50, with 77-74-151.

In as much as a player could take only one prize, Phil Gaudin, the home professional, won $40 for his 75 card registered after luncheon, while Dave Livie of Lake Geneva carried off $25 for his 76, made on the last round.

Nicolson Traffic Star.
Col. L. M. Nicolson of the Chicago Golf club was the star performer of the ninety members of the Traffic club, who competed yesterday at Riverside in their fall golf tournament. Col. Nicolson had 86-9-9-77, which won first low net prize. H. Waddell, with 92-20-79, won second, and A. G. McKinley, with 99-18-81, third.

Three players, L. M. Walter, 105-25-80; W. H. Ward, 100-20-80, and C. J. Etnier, 102-25-80, tied in the blind bogey competition.

Charles Evans Jr. played as a member of the President's foursome and had an exhibition card of 38-37-75. The Wins in Dental Golf.

The Englewood Dental society held its annual golf tournament at the Olympia Fields Country club yesterday, and as a result H. J. Thart, with 92-24-72, won low net prize. C. F. B. Stowell, 97-24-73, won second low net prize.

Low gross honors resulted in a tie between R. M. Morange and P. C. Lewis, each having 84.

The Business Men's Prosperity club staged its annual golf tournament at Olympia Fields. The winners were: Low gross, afternoon round, Dr. J. W. Brimmer, 97-35-45; low net, M. H. H. Lorne, 97-35-45; low net, M. H. H. Lorne, 97-35-45; low net, M. H. H. Lorne, 97-35-45.

Lot for guards, and Pabodie, a new man, is holding down the job of center and seems to pass the ball as if an oldtimer. Cunningham, sub half of a year ago, and Fritz, a sub fullback, are back and may break in as regulars in some capacity before the season is far advanced.

About May Collins, to Whom Chas. Is Reported Engaged

"ALL'S FAIR IN LOVE."
Produced by Goldwyn.
Directed by S. Mason Hopper.
Presented at the Adams theater.

THE CAST.
Natalie.....May Collins
Bobby Cameron.....Richard Dix
Vera.....Marilyn Manon
Craig Randolph.....Raymond Hatton
Rogers.....Stuart Holmes
Marshall.....Andrew Robson

By Mae Tinee.
Being a woman, and, therefore, curious, I found myself exceedingly anxious to see what manner of maid this was in which Charlie Chaplin is supposed to be interested. You know he's been reported as engaged to May Collins? All right—over at the Adams was Miss Collins in a picture called "All's Fair in Love." Also in the cast with Miss Collins is one Richard Dix, whom the frantic press agents have announced as Charlie's rival. Simply had to go and see that picture.

Well, having seen it, one can readily understand how as great an artist as Mr. Chaplin perhaps would become interested in a girl like Miss Collins. She's just as clever as she can be. Unless she gets the big head over all the publicity which has been given her it is quite safe to predict that some day she will be a great artist. She has beauty, poise, and a decided common sense. Also she knows how to carry a big dramatic "moment" when it comes her way. Personally, I don't imagine Mr. Chaplin's interest verges on the sentimental. What I do think is that he thinks she's a clever kid with a future and wants to help her if he can.

The picture is a splendidly directed comedy drama from the pen of Thomas Buchanan, and Miss Collins, as a spoiled child of a doting father and the trusting fiancée of a man who has known other women but gotten bravely over them, is pitted against the vampirish and slinky Marcia Manon. The contrast between a wholesome love and an unhealthy passion is vividly drawn.

After a number of adventures both unhappy and funny the little bride (she marries him) wins out, and you sure do draw a breath of relief, for you couldn't bear to let the picture stop with Miss Collins' Natalie unhappy.

Richard Dix makes a fine and manly hero. Andrew Robson is one's ideal of a doting and delightful father. Stuart Holmes and Raymond Hatton in the roles of jealous lovers do quite all that could be expected of them.

The picture is well staged, photographed, and, as I said before, directed. There is little padding to it and from a snappy beginning it hustles right on about its business to a happy ending.

See it!

"She Glared—He Stared." Judge Hall, whom I have known for many years, came to my city this year and I had great delight in meeting him. I had never met his wife, but this year she came with him.

I was driving my car through the crowd and when I was within a few feet of my parking place a woman persisted in walking slowly in front of it. In trying to warn her with klaxon and avoid an accident, I killed my engine. In anything but a pleasant voice I called to her to get out of the way. In a short time I went through the barn. I met my friend, the judge, who introduced me to his wife.

She glared at me. I stared at her. We each recognized the other as having a few minutes before been the principal actors in avoiding an automobile accident. I was greatly embarrassed.

LOUISA: UNEASIER LIES THE head that wears no crown, eh? Better send along a stamped, addressed envelope, and I will give you just the information you need to renew your golden crown. I have just received a letter from a girl who followed these instructions for two months, and she writes me thinking me most profusely, adding that it revived an almost marred complexion, which, I have to admit, was credited me with a little more than my due—but then it shows what daily care will do for the hair.

MRS. X: TRY EATING BRAN bread and bran biscuits. Bran bread and bran biscuits are not hard to take, and they help a lot in constipation trouble. You can even take a tablespoonful of bran in hot water before breakfast and before retiring, and find it helpful. The sluggish skin, dull eyes, and springiness step follow the trouble you have. Mineral oil is a good laxative. But I think if you substitute vegetables and fruits, drink six glasses of water a day, and eat the bran, you will be able to correct your trouble easily enough.

Teachers' Pay Bays Silks; But They're Forbidden

Lyndhurst, N. J., Sept. 28.—Longer skirts and no silks or satins—this is the latest order to teachers issued by the Lyndhurst school board. The order did not specify the orthodox length. The ban on expensive materials, it was explained, had been placed because most of the pupils came from families of moderate circumstances. If teacher wear silks, pupils might feel obliged to do likewise.

TRIBUNE COOK BOOK

BY JANE EDDINGTON.

South American Tea.

It is related that the first people in England to receive a pound of tea put it into a gallon or two of water, boiled it an hour or two, and pronounced it bad. They thought it should be cooked like greens. There is a moral to this.

In the Weekly News Letter for Sept. 21 it says that the department of agriculture believes that "the American public should acquaint itself with this South American tea-like beverage, which has many points to recommend it for general use." It is referring to the yerba mate, which is now grown in Florida not only by the department but by people who are recommending it to their friends.

This yerba mate (pronounced matay) is said to contain less tannin than tea, but over the process of curing, less expensive than that for the proper manufacture of tea—it has a slight suggestion of smokiness which is liked by those who get used to it. People in southern Florida dry this in the oven and like the tea brewed from it.

The News Letter says that we must learn to like the flavor of this beverage, new to us, and create a demand for it, otherwise cultivation on a large scale cannot be attempted.

One of the large mail order houses carried it for a while, but I have just got the information from them that they got too much of it back to make it profitable. Their directions made too strong an infusion. But in special circles it is being experimented with, though one literary woman who had kept drinking it for a time said that her friends declared that it looked like tobacco and tasted like boiled hay. But she did not know when it was not properly prepared.

Onwentsia to Hold First Hunt in Ten Years This Afternoon

The first hunt of the season at Onwentsia will be held this afternoon, starting at 4 o'clock. This important sporting and social event has been anticipated for some time, being the first in ten years at the club, and it is expected that all of those registered in the hunt club will take part, although many probably will not follow the hounds to the end. Joseph T. Perkins is the master of the hounds (M. F. H.) and Mrs. Austin Niblack, deputy M. F. H. Others on the bridge path committee are Prentiss Conley and Byron Harvey.

Following the hunt there will be a dinner at the clubhouse at 7:30 o'clock, when the officers of the club will bring before all members the program for the hunting season, as planned by the bridge path committee.

Only the relatives and a few intimate friends have been invited to attend the wedding of Miss Helen Perkins, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Perkins of 3133 S. Wabash street, and Francis M. Knight, son of Mr. and Mrs. Newell S. Knight of Evanston, to take place Thursday evening, Oct. 4, at the residence of the bride's parents. A few more friends have been asked to the reception which will follow at 9 o'clock. The Rev. James G. K. McCune will read the services in the same house in which the bride's parents were wed. The twin sister of the bride, Miss Margaret Perkins, will be maid of honor, and the bridesmaids will be Miss Nancy Knight, sister of the bridegroom, and Miss Margaret Scott, who will be married to the bride's brother, Franklin Head Perkins, next month. Newell Knight will serve as best man for his brother. Mr. and Mrs. Knight will live at 638 Hinman avenue, Evanston.

Mrs. James W. Thorne, first vice president of the Woman's Exchange, announces the fall opening of the children's department today. In addition to many attractive infants' and children's clothes, several beautiful dolls' houses are on sale. Mrs. Edward I. Cudahy is president of the exchange and Mrs. C. Bai Lihme is second vice president.

Mrs. Harrison Parker and Miss Mary Parker, who spent the late summer in California, have returned to Chicago and are at the Drake for the winter. Miss Parker will be one of the season's debutantes.

Fashion's Blue Book

BY CORINNE LOWE

NEW YORK.—[Special Correspondence.]—When one is 16 and conscious that one really understands one's nature, a frock such as the above is likely to do much in the way of comforting a lonely isolation of spirit. The model is blue velvet with yoke, sleeves and underskirt of white chiffon, and in the back the drapery suggests just the least, inoffensive little bit of the old time bustle.

Velvet is confined, as usual, to no particular age of womanhood. It is making some of the smartest coats of the belle of from 6 to 12. These coats, by the way, whether of velvet, duvety or woolen material, are frequently cut circular. Some of them have the wide peasant sleeves and some the attractive bishop model.

Trimming of braid is prevalent, particularly on the velvet coats, and one of the loveliest models noted is of royal blue velvet, banded closely with black silk braid and collared in gray squirrel.

To Miss Edna Ferber:

Please be assured that I permitted the change of "FANNY HERSHE" to "NO WOMAN KNOWS" because the latter was a more appropriate title for box office purposes and better fits the very fine story as a moving picture title. I did insist upon Mr. Browning following your story faithfully, for I do not believe any director could improve upon the written work.

With my greatest respect,

Very sincerely,
